30 FAMILIES GET CHILD AID IN WEST ADAMS

Thirty families in the western part of the county are receiving aid to dependent children because the family income is insufficient to meet basic living requirements, Simon Montforte, Gettysburg, Department of Public Assistance case worker for that section of the county, told the Adams County Board of Assistance at its meeting Thursday evening in its office on Chambersburg St.

All persons in the western part of the county who are able to work are employed, he said, but a number "have families too large for the income they receive and assistance is being given to supplement their needs." Of the 40 families receiving aid "more than 30" have other income. He said a "chief problem is lack of formal education, most of them being dropouts from early grades."

Since September Montforte has been attending a training course at Harrisburg sponsored by the department.

Mrs. Verna Myers, director, announced that an "Institute on the Change and Challenge in Public Welfare" will be held April 10 at the York YWCA. Speakers will include Arlin M. Adams, state secretary of public welfare, and Dr. William B. Tolen, commissioner of public assistance in Pennsylvania. Plans were made for several of the staff and board to attend the session which will be open to the public.

The number of cases as of the present time is two less than the number a month ago, but represents 17 more people.

At the present time there are 194 cases of old age assistance involving 198 persons; 112 blind pension receivers, 165 cases of aid to dependent children involving 736 persons; 22 cases of aid to dependent children caused by unemployment, involving 122 persons; 64 cases of general assistance involving 96 persons and 57 cases of aid to the disabled involving 59 persons. British War Minister Admits Friendship With Missing Good-Time Girl

One Laborite, Barbara Castle, said there were rumors highly placed persons were responsible for hiding Christine, whom she termed "the missing call girl."

1,100 Lose Lives On Isle Of Bali When Old Volcano Spurts Hot Lava Five Days

By KARSTEN PRAGER

DENPASAR, Bali (AP)—The deluge of lava from sacred Agung volcano was reported to have stopped today after five days of eruption. The governor of Bali said at least 1,100 islanders have perished.

"We have 75,000 homeless people to feed at this point, and we need help from everybody," said Gov. Anak Agung Sutedja.

He said another 200,000 may have lost their livelihood. Thousands of acres of once-fertile rice-land lay beneath tons of lava and ash that have blanketed Bali's northeast coast.

100,000 FLEE

An estimated 100,000 Balinese were fleeing the stricken area. Riding and afoot, they carried what possessions they could as they tried to get away from the 10,308-foot volcano which erupted briefly in February after years of virtual quiet, then went into violent action Sunday.

Reports from the disaster area said a heavy column of smoke still billowed from the crater.

A civil defense spokesman in Jakarta said earlier that more violent eruptions were feared, and authorities were trying to clear about 250,000 persons from a radius of 20 miles around the volcano.

FFA AND YOUNG FARMERS DINE IN BIGLERVILLE

Members of the Future Farmers of America and Upper Adams Young Farmers were given goals "for production a decade from now" at their annual banquet Thursday evening in the Biglerville High School cafeteria.

Agricultural Instructor Cecil R. Snyder told the group, "If we plan to stay in farming we'll have to increase production consistently." He said: "Our goals 10 years from now should be 200 bushels of corn per acre, 1,000 bushels of apples per acre from mature orchards, 750 bushels of peaches per acre, 30 tons of tomatoes per acre and an average of 10 pigs per litter. The goals," he said, "may seem fantastic now but each year production is getting closer to those goals. Once 10 tons of tomatoes per acre was considered unusual, now 20 tons per acre is not too unusual and in tomatoes as in all other crops the production figures are going upward every year."

One hundred fourteen attended the dinner which was the 24th for the Upper Adams Future Farmers of America and the fifth for the Young Farmers jointly with the FFA.

Guests of the members included the Future Farmers' parents and the Young Farmers' wives.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION UNIT FORMED

A Bermudian Springs Jointure chapter of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation was established Thursday evening at the Bermudian Springs High School to give financial aid to worthy students from the joint school district who are seeking to advance their education at colleges and universities.

More than 30 were present for the meeting at which Rev. Amos D. Meyers, the supervising principal of the joint school district, was named president of the chapter.

Joel Zepp was elected vice president; Mrs. Fred Hopper, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl Fetrow, corresponding secretary, and John Rebert, treasurer. The First National Bank of York Springs was named depository for the funds.

FOR QUALIFIED STUDENTS

Reports at the meeting indicated that about $500 is already pledged to the chapter and it is hoped that sufficient funds can be raised quickly enough to begin assistance to present students as quickly as possible.

The financial assistance will go to young people, regardless of race, color, creed, or sex, who display mental and technical fitness for education beyond the high school level but whose financial resources are inadequate to permit their furthering their education.

The extent of the help to be given will depend upon the funds available and the fund is expected to grow as the years go by because those who benefit by the financial assistance will in turn, it is hoped, repay the amount they received so it can be used for the education of other students.

29 CHILDREN REPORTED IN C. W. SERVICE

Ankeny, in testimony made public today, said flatlands in Illinois and Indiana scarred by strip mining can be reclaimed and made productive.

KELSO UNIQUE IN TURF SET

By FRANK ECK
The Associated Press

Kelso will never get to the breeding farms but he sure knows how to run when the stakes are high. The five-year-old Bohemia Stable gelding made turf history in 1962 by becoming the first thoroughbred ever selected "horse of the year" a third time.

Despite earlier setbacks at the hands of Carry Back and Beau Purple, Kelso became the fifth horse to reach the million dollar mark in earnings.

Mrs. Richard C. du Pont's color bearer ran his three-year take to $1,011,940 early in December.

Winning the Jockey Club Gold Cup, the Woodward and running second to France's Match II in Laurel's International clinched the title for mighty Kelso.

Carry Back beat Kelso in the Metropolitan Mile at Aqueduct and also in the Monmouth Handicap. However, neither could match strides with Beau Purple in the Suburban, a speed horse who also won the Brooklyn. Carry Back ran third in the International after winding up 10th due to a poor ride in the 24-horse field L'Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

RETIRE TO STUD

However, Mrs. Katherine Price's four-year-old colt became the third best money winner in history with $1,170,825. Trainer Jack Price then retired him to stud at Ocala, Fla., where he had been foaled at a cost of $700.

Just as Kelso ranked first in all polls, George D. Widener's Jaipur gained acclaim in the three-year-old division. The Nasrullah — Rare Perfume colt earned $395,437 in winning the Belmont Stakes and four other stakes.

Harry F. Guggenheim's Never Bend, with a record $402,969, was ranked first among a fine field of juveniles that included Rex C. Ellsworth's unbeaten Candy Spots (3 for 3) and Widener's Crewwan. Candy Spots beat Never Bend in the $357,520 Chicago Futurity and Crewwan upset Never Bend in the $273,530 Garden State. However, Never Bend won seven of his other eight starts.

SHOEMAKER HIGH

Willie Shoemaker, who won the two richest races with Candy Spots in Chicago and Crewwan at Cherry Hill, N.J., led the riders in money won by taking 36 stakes. He also rode Jaipur, following the retirement of Eddie Arcaro, the old master.

Decidedly, under Bill Hartack, not only surprised by winning the Kentucky Derby but broke Whirlaway's record with a 2:00.2 clocking for the 10 furlongs.

Greek Money, under John Rotz, won the Preakness in a tight finish with Manny Ycaza aboard. Ycaza was fined and suspended. The hot-tempered Panamanian was also aboard Never Bend when beaten by Candy Spots and drew a suspension for a frivolous foul claim.

Ronnie Ferraro, 19-year-old apprentice from Cornwells Heights, Pa., led the nation's jockeys. On becoming a full fledged rider on December 11 — one year after his first winner — he had 341 winners for the year.

Mutuel betting reached a record $1,127,023,764 in New York state, with the state treasury enriched more than $105 million.

Harness racing also flourished. Roosevelt Raceway handled a record $189,713,964 in 105 nights with 53,279 fans turning out for its International, won by Canada's Tie Silk. Yonkers, N.Y., Raceway had $212,369,294 wagered for 113 nights.

Bob Farrington, 33, of Richwood, O., had 204 winners of rich drivers for the second straight year.

HEAR OF NEED FOR TECHNICAL SCHOOL IN AREA

Public school administrators and directors from Adams, Franklin and Fulton Counties met Thursday evening at the Greencastle High School to discuss the need for an area technical school. Franklin County Superintendent of Schools James K. Gibboney presided.

Speakers included George W. Ellison, state supervisor of technical, military and industrial education for the state Department of Public Instruction; Clair Fitz, area coordinator of industrial education for Pennsylvania State University, and Stephen Sworn, also of the state DPI.

Mr. Gibboney indicated the Franklin County School Board is reviving its interest in the establishment of such a technical school and Ellison said there is a "great deal of interest" across the state in such schools. He showed a color film of one now operating in Bucks County. Fayette County also has a school and Lebanon County is moving ahead rapidly with plans for such a unit.

The consultants said schools already established 500 to 750 students on a part-time schedule from their regular academic studies in their own high school. A 10-shop school to handle 500 pupils would cost about $1,250,000 equipped and might cost $250 per pupil per year in this area for operation, the schoolmen were told.

Attending the meeting from Adams County were County Superintendent M. Francis Coulson; his assistant, George B. Inskip; and secretary of the county board of school directors, Hugh C. McIlhenny, Straban Twp.

SAY BIDAULT FACES THREE QUICK CHOICES

An AP News Analysis
By RICHARD O'REGAN
STEINEBACH, Germany (AP) —Georges Bidault gives the impression of a tragic, hunted exile with little prospect except political oblivion.

He is wanted by the French government and unwanted by his unwilling protectors in Germany. Bidault faces three choices within a few days. None of them gives him much hope of regaining the stature he once had as a distinguished French leader.

He can remain in Germany and give up political activity against his former friend and present enemy, Charles de Gaulle. If he stays, he will have to abandon in fact—even if not in name—the leadership he claims to have over the movement to overthrow De Gaulle.

LEADS RESISTANCE

He can allow himself to be deported from Germany. In this case, he may, like certain members of the terrorist French Secret Army, find himself wandering from country to country, seeking a refuge where he might operate in the open against his adversary.

Or he can decide to try to escape German police, flee Germany, and resume his clandestine wanderings about Europe. He would have to enter another country illegally and would be hunted by French secret agents.

Bidault says he leads the Council of National Resistance, an organization regarded as the political arm of the secret army which has tried to assassinate De Gaulle.

OUT OF CONTROL

He is charged in France with being a member of a clandestine organization which has been ordered dissolved because it is plotting against the security of the state. This is not a capital offense. He has not been accused of trying to kill De Gaulle, a crime punishable by death.

Bidault has been under German police guard since he was discovered 12 days ago living with two German journalists in a hilltop villa in this Bavarian village.

He has had no rendezvous with

The Federation meeting will replace the April meeting of the Junior Woman's Club.

anybody not allowed by the police.

If there still are CNR or secret army men in Bavaria, they apparently have had no direct contact with Bidault since he was found.

DECISION SOON

Correspondents who have seen Bidault here get the impression that he may have become only a figurehead in the organizations. Bidault is a former premier and a former foreign minister of France. He headed the wartime resistance against the Nazis while De Gaulle was out of the country. As such, he still has appeal to numerous Frenchmen.

But active leadership of the CNR may have passed elsewhere —perhaps to Jacques Soustelle, another former minister in De Gaulle's government, who is reported hiding in Portugal. Soustelle is a younger, more energetic man.

The Bavarian government says a final decision on Bidault will come this weekend or early next week.

MASS IS SUNG FOR DECEASED PRIEST TODAY

A Solemn Requiem Mass was sung in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, this morning for Rev. Francis P. Kearney, J.C.D., dean of studies since 1954, who was fatally stricken on Tuesday. Very Rev. Thomas J. Kilcullen, J.C.D., vice president, was the celebrant.

The eulogy was given by Rev. David W. Shaum, who said, "Father Kearney was privileged as a priest in that he combined the two paths of Christ's sacred ministry. He served both in the field of parish administration and ministering and in the instruction of others in an institution of higher learning."

LAUDS DECEASED

He celebrated the 25th anniversary of his sacerdotal ordination last spring, 20 years of which he served at Mt. St. Mary's College and Seminary.

"The college and seminary are bereft of a priest, a professor, an administrator, a confidant and a friend. In their loss, the administration, faculty and student body, deeply conscious of his tireless and tiring efforts on their behalf during these two decades, pledge to his dear mother, sisters and brother their fervent prayers and good works on behalf of his heroic soul."

Other officers of the Mass were: Rev. Carl J. Fives, S.T.L., deacon; Rev. Philip A. Barrett, S.T.B., subdeacon, and Rev. Gennar A. DePauw, J.C.D., master of ceremonies.

LAY BEARERS

Pallbearers were elected from among the lay faculty and were: Dr. John J. Dillon, Prof. Dominic G. Greco, Prof. Robert J. Henke, Dr. Robert T. Marshall, Prof. Richard J. McCullough and Dr. John W. Richards. Others members of the faculty served with the president of the student body and the four college class presidents as honorary pallbearers and ushers.

The Office of the Dead was chanted for the deceased Thursday evening by the priests and seminarians of the college and seminary. Father Kilcullen was the officiating priest at the ceremony.

A second Pontifical Requiem Mass will be offered at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen on Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in Baltimore.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Ellis Leaman will be the preacher for a series of revival services to be held in the Mummaburg Mennonite Church from March 24 through March 31. Services will be held at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

Kennedy Acts As Pacifier In TFX Warplane Difference

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—With kind words for both sides, President Kennedy has stepped in between senators and defense officials battling over the TFX warplane probe.

In so many words Thursday he told the Pentagon to wait in a neutral corner for the investigation's outcome which he said would prove that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was right in awarding the big contract to General Dynamics Corp.

"I see nothing wrong with Congress looking at these matters," the President told his news conference. "My judgment is that the decision reached by Secretary McNamara was the right one, sound one, and any fair and objective hearing will bring that out."

And, he added later, "I assume that the McClellan committee, on which I once served, will render a fair judgment."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., hailed Kennedy's words as fair and "nice." This influence was a factor in the Pentagon's award of the contract for the TFX — experimental tactical fighter — to General Dynamics of Fort Worth, Tex., over a lower rival bid by the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash.

The $24-million contract covers the start of work on the plane, an all-purpose fighter-bomber to be used by both Air Force and Navy. Eventually 1,700 of the planes will be built at an estimated cost of $6.5 billion.

Kennedy's statement was oil on troubled waters, but only time would tell if he calmed them.

Before he spoke to newsmen these developments had added to the storm:

DEPARTMENT LEAK

The Defense Department leaked to newsmen a memorandum protesting that the subcommittee's investigators had subjected Air Force employees to "oral abuse and pressure tactics" "smacking of gestapo tactics."

Jerome Adlerman, subcommittee counsel, fired back that the charge was false and designed to harass one of his aides who, Adlerman said, had uncovered "enormous errors" in figures the Defense Department used to justify its award of the contract.

The Senate itself got into a boiling debate over the Air Force memorandum with McClellan rejecting its charges and caustically declaring he would call off the hearings if the Senate would pass a resolution ordering him to "cease and desist."

HOT WORDS FLY

Hot words flew in the hearing room itself as the subcommittee received testimony first from Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric, then from McNamara himself.

The secretary went into the hearing room armed with suitcases crammed with documents. He elaborated on a sworn statement he had submitted last week, was asked a few questions, and then released pending recall for lengthy questioning after the subcommittee has compiled the rest of its evidence. A transcript of his testimony was to be released, possibly after being censored, later in the day.

Aside from the rows, the investigation has centered on the question of why General Dynamics won the contract.

Testimony has been introduced that military boards had picked the Boeing proposals promising the cheaper and better plane but were overruled by the civilian secretaries.

In his statement, McNamara said the General Dynamics plan would use more of the same components for both Air Force and Navy versions of the TFX, thus saving more money.

The Pentagon leaked the critical Air Force memorandum as Gilpatric was striving to calm subcommittee anger over an anonymous Pentagon spokesman's weekend statement to newsmen charging that Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and McClellan had maneuvered the department into an unfavorable position in the hearings.

Gilpatric acknowledged he was one of the anonymous spokesmen who had talked to about 14 newsmen, but he denied making the statements reported by the newsmen. He insisted he has been unable to learn who had made them.

Word of the charges of abuse of witnesses reached senators in the hearing room, in the midst of Gilpatric's testimony.

600 MARCHERS DEMAND FREE RULE IN KOREA

By CONRAD FINK

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The largest antigovernment demonstrations in South Korea's 22 months of military rule erupted today in Seoul and two southern cities.

Confronted by his most serious challenge to date, strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park declared anew he will not waiver from his plan to extend military rule for another four years.

About 600 slogan-chanting demonstrators marched the streets of Seoul, demanding that the military junta keep its earlier promise to restore civilian government in August. Police seized scores of marchers.

Park banned political activity in this tense nation March 16 and proposed a referendum on his plan to continue military rule.

The military junta warned in a nationwide broadcast that the armed forces stand behind the government. In a show of force, a vehicle convoy of officers traveled from Park's residence to the defense ministry.

The demonstration in Seoul brought out many civilian political leaders. For the first time, members of the general public joined in.

Police broke up similar demonstrations in Pusan, the nation's second largest city, on the southern tip of the peninsula, and Kwang-Ju, a provincial capital 150 miles south of Seoul. Arrests were made.

In proposing an extension of military rule, Park said, "This country should not become a state solely for the tainted politicians." He pledged to "follow the will of the people expressed through a referendum."

But with political activity banned, the referendum promised to be an all-government show. The government controls the nationwide radio and information centers in villages and has placed severe restrictions on newspapers.

BAILED FOR COURT

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

— Lt. Frazee Enroute Here From

Germany: First Lieutenant Mary Elizabeth "Betty" Frazee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Howard Street, will reach the United States March 28, she has wired her parents, after having spent the past two years with the army in Germany.

Miss Frazee, whose army career has been one of the longest of all county women, entered the army five and a half years ago as a member of the then WAAC. Completing studies as a physical therapist in the army, she was commissioned and served in a number of army hospitals. For the last two years she has been with the 319th Station Hospital at Bremerhaven in Germany. She left Germany on March 10.

Gettysburg Mentioned On Radio

Program: Gettysburg and the National Military Park here broke onto the ether waves this morning on the John Gambling program broadcast from station WOKR, with studios in New York City.

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the park, was in the radio audience. The fact was mentioned by Gambling as he named several of the persons in the studio for the program.

Gettysburg was pointed out as a national shrine, and two members of the studio orchestra commented (ad lib) that they were stationed at Camp Colt, on the battlefield here, during World War I.

Start Work On Swimming Pool:

Workmen today began excavation for the new concrete swimming pool to be ready for use at the Gettysburg Country club "by warm weather."

Leo McDermitt is the contractor for the job. The pool, which meets AAU and state health department requirements, will be 82.6 feet long and 30 feet wide and will range in depth from three to nine feet. There will be a 20x30-foot wading pool for the smaller children.

Water for the pool will be supplied from the dam on the club property and will pass through a filter system that will change the water in the pool each 7½ hours. The state requirement is that the water be changed within 8½-hour periods.

The pool is being placed on high ground between the former Terrace and the golf club house. The work is being done under the supervision of John A. Hauser, chairman of the pool committee.

Any "Offer" Could Move That

Stock: A linoleum dealer in a nearby town put several rolls of odd-length linoleum in front of his store, and above them he placed a sign:

"For Sale—Make Me An Offer."

A woman stopped in front of the store.

"Are those for sale?"

"Yes," replied the linoleum merchant.

"How much?" said the woman.

"Make me an offer," suggested the merchant.

"Well, I'd like that piece, but I wouldn't give you anything for it. I can't afford it."

"It's yours," said the dealer.

"The sign says 'Make Me An Offer' and you did. What's your address? We deliver."

She got the linoleum.

Put Tractor On New Truck:

The Gettysburg Fire department's aerial ladder truck had a new tractor today. The job of making the changeover from the old tractor which came with the truck when it was acquired from Wilmington, Del., last summer, was completed Saturday afternoon, and the converted vehicle was placed in the engine house.

The special aerial ladder truck committee of the fire department purchased a new GMC 2½-ton tractor for the hook and ladder

Today's Talk

IF WE BUT KNEW

It is the illusion of the unseen, faith in the invisible, striving for that which we hope will become real and living, full of warmth and life, that gives to us all the incentive to be other than mere drones and nonentities.

If we but knew the truth that lies concealed behind so much for which we strive and sacrifice, little of real worth in the world would we achieve.

The explorer doesn't face danger and privations for their own sake. He knows that he is sure to be compelled to face them, but the extent is kept veiled from him. Only when they are at hand does he put every faculty of mind and body to their extreme test — and then in no complaining manner — but had he them all pictured in advance exactly as they would occur, the chances are that neither he, nor his aides, would ever have attempted what they did.

Men like to court danger in the unseen, untried, and often unthought. Therein lies the fascination — to have achieved for the pure pleasure and experience of having achieved the impossible, or as so believed.

The everyday patriots always appear in the minority — but let a war come on and their name is legion! If they but knew. We honor their sacrifice of life — but would that they might rather have lived — would that they might work for their country rather than die for it!

It is well that we do not know what the morrow will bring forth. It is well that we do not know but a few of the mysteries of this life. Mystery fascinates. The unknown intrigues. We have great inventors and discoverers because of their passion for the untried, the unknown, the undiscovered.

If we but knew we would do little in this world. Every day new discoveries and new revelations mean new life — new hope and new incentive to do and be better.

Outside of us there is only a world — but inside us there is a universe.

With them I'm always glad to be
To hear the things they have to say,

I like them all, except the Jack

I am not one to pick and choose.
I'm glad to greet my fellowman.

All, all instruct me or amuse,
All members of the human clan,

Yet I confess I view with scorn
The needless sounder of the horn.

I do not care what food men eat
Nor what their chosen form of prayer

I have no holier conceit.
I know a common end we share,

But I don't like the man about

Of rich and poor no choice I make.
No choice make I of creed or state.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

ON THE WANE?: The government has granted licenses for general distribution of two forms of measles vaccine. One may be available in a day or so, just as the measles' season gets in full swing.

"This is one of our most significant advances in recent years toward decreasing or eliminating one of our most serious childhood diseases," said U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry.

At a news conference Thursday, Terry predicted "a very sharp decrease" in the disease next season.

There have been more than 4 million cases of measles each year in the United States, with 400 deaths, and the disease has been an even greater killer in foreign countries, he said.

With widespread use of the vaccine, Terry said it was possible the disease could be virtually eradicated within two years.

Chas. Pfizer & Co. received a license to market the inactivated or "killed" virus vaccine, Merck, Sharp & Dohme was licensed to market "live" virus vaccine.

NET WORTH: Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has estimated his financial worth at $1,278,200, mostly in common stocks and bonds.

The Pentagon announced that McNamara voluntarily gave the Senate Investigations subcommittee an up-to-date statement of his personal finances "because of newspaper reports that the committee's investigating staff is examining possible self-interest on the part of Pentagon officials in the award of the TFX (warplane) contract."

There has been no suggestion in the hearings, however, that McNamara had a personal stake in the award of the potential $6.5 billion contract to General Dynamics Corp.

When McNamara joined the Cabinet in 1961, he gave up an annual salary and bonus totaling $500,000 as president of Ford Motor Co. for an annual salary of $25,000 as secretary of defense.

FOREIGN AID: The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has urged a new approach to foreign aid and has described the Alliance for Progress in Latin America as close to disaster.

In a statement Thursday, chamber directors contended that assistance should place heavier stress on private enterprise and on foreign policy goals.

As for the Alliance for Progress, the chamber said:

"The machinery of the alliance is in serious disarray, and its manifest inability to quickly satisfy expectations aroused beyond attainable levels could prove disastrous unless strong corrective measures are adopted."

A presidential committee headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay has been investigating the foreign aid program and is due to make its report public late Saturday.

Gov. Scranton and former Budget Secretary David Baldwin were at sharp odds today over the current financial condition of the state highways building program.

SAY BAD FIRE PREVENTABLE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The New Year's Day fire that destroyed the Pretz Building in North Philadelphia — called one of the worst in the city's history by fire officials — could have been prevented, according to Council President Paul D'Ortona.

D'Ortona, who served as chairman of the council's fire probe committee, said members of the group agreed unanimously the blaze could have been prevented.

"This building located in a thickly populated residential community, was neglected and poorly managed, resulting in the existence of a dangerous condition."

"The failure of the managers to report or notify the fire department of the breakdown of the sprinkler system, and their failure to provide substitute fire protection by means of watchman service or immediate repairs to the sprinkler system, accentuated the dangerous condition of the building."

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Defective wiring caused a fire that destroyed a Washington County school scheduled to be abandoned, a fire official says.

No one was injured Thursday in the blaze at Burgettstown Union High School. Fire Chief Walter Farmer, who gave the cause, didn't estimate the damage, but a school official said the building was insured for about $350,000.

The roof caved in, and half of the walls crumbled and collapsed during the fire. The blaze started in an electrical panel on the auditorium stage, about a half hour after the school's 800 students were dismissed for the day.

The school, built in 1917, was slated to be abandoned after the present school term. A new junior-senior high is partially completed.

A janitor who discovered the fire tried to put it out with a fire extinguisher, but the flames spread rapidly throughout the three-story brick building. Four fire companies battled the blaze.

Youth Guilty In Flaming Car Crash

HARRISBURG (AP) — Darryl Oxenrider, 18, of Tower City faces an indefinite term at the State Correctional Institution in Camp Hill as a result of his conviction on charges of involuntary manslaughter.

Oxenrider was sentenced by Judge R. Nixon Herman of Dauphin County criminal court Thursday after a jury of eight women and four men found the defendant guilty.

He was driver of one of the cars involved in a flaming auto crash last Dec. 2 on Route 209 about four miles east of Lykens. Robert Keeney, 18, of Williamsport burned to death in the accident.

Fasting Housewife Takes Off 10 Pounds

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Mary Ferguson, the housewife who vowed she'd lose 50 of her 244 pounds in two weeks, is now 10 pounds lighter—and says she has lost two inches from her hips, three and one-half inches from her bust.

Her waist, alas, hasn't changed yet.

Mrs. Ferguson, 36, who chose a hotel room for fasting in private, is sticking to a diet of coffee, tea and bouillon. She eats no solids.

BRENNAN IN SPECIAL ON GARY COOPER

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Brennan, conservatively natty in a dark blue suit and regimental tie, drew some curious "Don't I know you from somewhere?" looks as he walked from the NBC studios in Rockefeller Center to a nearby restaurant.

But the 69-year-old actor was so far out of his country-farmer role of Grandpa Amos McCoy of television that public recognition was slow.

And he was glad, because he was fresh from narrating the final scenes of Tuesday night's NBC special "The Tall American—Gary Cooper," and still feeling emotional about the experience.

MET IN 1925

"I was afraid my emotion would run away with me," the three-time Oscar winner confessed.

"I'm Irish, you know, and an actor, and I cry pretty easily."

He ordered a breakfast-type luncheon of bacon and eggs, and returned to the subject which was still uppermost in his mind: Gary Cooper, a friend for 27 years.

"I got to know Cooper when he went out to Hollywood for pictures in 1925. We met one day while we were hanging around waiting for a scene, and I introduced myself and he mumbled his name—so low I asked him to repeat it."

"Frank Cooper," he said. Those were the days when he was an extra and carried around a card that said, "Frank Cooper, $10 a day—stunts extra."

Cooper — rechristened Gary — struck the public's fancy in "The Winning of Barbara Worth." Over the years Brennan appeared in eight big pictures with him, and was always a close friend.

"He was a regular guy," said Brennan, "and he never changed. And he was always a relaxer for me. I miss him very much."

Brennan's career moved along briskly, too, as Cooper shot to the top as one of Hollywood's great stars. A native of Swamscott,

SEE PACT IN PAPER STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—Publishers of eight closed-down newspapers have reached tentative contract agreement with another union.

Announcement of the settlement with the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union was made today as the stage was all set for a new vote by striking printers on Mayor Robert F. Wagner's formula for ending the 105-day-old shutdown.

Officers of the printers union predict the men will approve Wagner's terms, already approved by the publishers.

Settlement of the printers strike could get the newspapers back on the streets next week—possibly as early as Monday.

Publishers figure Wagner's formula is a two-year package of $12.63 a week—an increase of $6.51 in the first year and an increase of $6.12 in the second year. This includes a pay raise of $4 a week in each of the two years. The printers' prestrike basic pay averaged $145 a week.

Four of the closed newspapers are strikebound; four are closed voluntarily.

Mass. Brennan abandoned an engineering career, moved to Hollywood in 1920 and got his first film role, a silent thriller called "Lorraine of the Lions." His first big movie break came in 1935, and he has been steadily employed as a capable character actor ever since.

Brennan and the lady he calls "my first and only wife" have a splendid life, on a 10-acre ranch about an hour's drive outside Los Angeles.

Eleven Lettermen Give Canners Fair Outlook For 1963 Track Season

Eleven lettermen among 60 candidates give the Biglerville High School track squad a fair outlook for the coming season which opens next Friday when the Canners will be host to Littlestown and Berks Springs in a triangular meet.

Coach Don Sterner and his assistants, Jack Emmanuel and Parker Coble, anticipate improvement over last year's record despite the rugged schedule. The Canners' strength will be in the weights, javelin, sprints and relays.

KEY VETERANS

The returning letter winners include Richard Dull, 1961 district and state Class B javelin champ, who was hampered by a severe arm injury last May. Last year he won the Shippensburg Invitation meet and South Penn titles. His best throw has been 196-6 and he hopes to reach 215 feet. Dull also runs the high and low hurdles, pole vault and broad jump.

Richard Guise, veteran sprinter and relay man, has his sights set on a 10-second 100-yard dash and 22.5 mark in the 220.

Joe Hartman is the veteran weight man who will be gunning for a 45-foot shotput and 145-foot discus toss.

Jim Oiler, holdover hurler, 440 and relay man, could be the most improved athlete on the squad. He hopes for a 15-second mark in the high hurdles, 20.5 in the low hurdles and 53 seconds in the quarter mile.

Other returning veterans include: George Montgomery, quarter-mile and relay; Leroy Wetzel, sprinter and relay, who can be used in many spots; Jeff Bosserman, distance and middle distance runner; Richard Price, pole vault and broad jump; Mike Thomas, javelin, broad jump, hurdles, who is a good utility man; Jeff Horick, a Junior, sprints, 440 and relays, and Mike Thomas, also a Junior, a very promising weight man.

PROMISING NEWCOMERS

Nonlettermen upon whom Coach Sterner is depending include Scott Schriver, Senior, high jump; Don Linard, Junior, weights; Harold Thomas, Junior, middle distances; Robert Thompson, Junior, weights; Bob Cover, Sophomore, pole vault, broad and high jumps; John Pitzer, Sophomore, 100, 220 and low hurdles, who rates as one of the best running prospects; Terry Taylor, Sophomore, a good prospect in the shot-put, discus, javelin, broad jump and hurdles; Dennis Kane, Sophomore, javelin and pole vault.

The schedule: March 29, Littlestown, Berks Springs, away; April 3, Gettysburg, away; 9, Camp Hill, home; 17, Boiling Springs, away; 20, Shippensburg State College invitation; 24, Shippensburg, home; May 1, Big Spring, home; 8, Waynesboro, away; 11, Blue Mountain meet at Gettysburg College; 15, Scotland, home; 18, District 3 meet; 25, state PIAA meet. Biglerville's junior varsity will also meet New Oxford on the latter's field Friday, May 3.

Ed Doherty is the new general manager of the Nashville team in the South Atlantic League. Doherty was general manager of the Washington Senators the last two years.

HARNEY WINS IN DORAN TOURNEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Paul Harney took a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $50,000 Doran Open golf tournament. Whether he holds it may depend on how the wind blows.

Harney, 33, just back from Worcester, Mass., where his fourth child was born, fired a 4-under-par 68 Thursday. He played most of his round after a sudden abatement of 25-mile-an-hour winds which buffeted the course earlier in the day.

Thus Harney escaped the tricky gusts which plagued such players as Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, the 1-2 money winners of the year, during the morning.

The 7,028-yard Doran Country Club course "played very tough in the wind," Player said after he finished his early round with Palmer and Gene Littler.

Player posted a 71 and, under the playing conditions, said he would "take four 71s. That would win this tournament." Palmer also had a 71. Littler led the threesome by dropping a 60-foot putt on the 18th green for a 70.

BASKETBALL'S BIG THREE TO PLAY TONIGHT

By DON WEISS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cincinnati meets Oregon State and Chicago Loyola plays racehorse with Duke's Blue Devils tonight as basketball's big three and an upstart that could steal it all reach the showdown stage in the National Collegiate championships.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally and seeking a record third straight NCAA championship, plays tough but unranked Oregon State in the windup of the double-header that opens with second-ranked Duke against third-ranked Loyola.

The winners will play for the championship Saturday night.

SELLOUT CROWD

Sellout record crowds of 19,153 will stream both nights into massive Freedom Hall on the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, where the Bearcats of Ed Jucker took their second championship a year ago with a 71-59 pasting of Jerry Lucas and the top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes.

The current Bearcats, although they've won 25 of 26 games and led The Associated Press poll from start to finish, aren't rated quite as strong as the clubs that spilled Ohio State and the great Lucas last year and in the 1961 final at Kansas City.

HOT DUKE STREAK

But as Oregon State's Slats Gill says: "You don't pick against a champion, especially when four of its five starters are back. They have the talent, Ed Jucker always has them well prepared and they have the benefit of having played in the championship game before."

Duke is on the hottest streak of the semifinalists, having won its last 20 games for a 26-2 record. Loyola rolled to the highest offensive average among the major colleges, 92.6 points a game, in winning 27 games and losing two.

TWO SMASH HOMERS

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Wes Covington and Frank Torre smashed three-run homers off Los Angeles Dodger ace pitcher Don Drysdale Thursday as an exhibition baseball game 8-7.

Torre also doubled in a run in the first inning.

Art Mahaffey fanned seven and gave up four runs in his six innings of work.

Moose Skowron drove in three runs in the ninth with a double off Mahaffey's reliever, Riverboat Smith.

GRIFFINS WIN AS PAT TURTLE QUIETS JONES

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A Turtle who treed a Wildcat is the newest—and perhaps most improbable—member of the National Invitation Tournament's starting ranks.

And the harassing job Pat Turtle, barely recovered from a broken ankle, did on hot-shooting Walley Jones of the Villanova Wildcats has to be the key reason Canisius is in Saturday's championship game in the 26th annual basketball classic.

With Jones going without a point in the last 16 minutes, the Griffins steamed past Villanova 61-46 Thursday night before a packed house of 18,129 at Madison Square Garden and gained the final along with Providence.

MARQUETTE BOWS

Fast-firing Ray Flynn again paced the Providence Friars, sparking a second-half burst that powered them over Marquette 70-64 in the first match of the semifinal doubleheader.

Turtle, a 5-foot-11 Canisius senior who suffered a right ankle fracture in practice Feb. 5, was idled from then until this past Tuesday night when he played very briefly in the Griffins' 76-67 quarter-final victory over Memphis State. He went in against Jones after the tricky Wildcat had scored 24 points, with Villanova ahead 35-31 and 16 minutes to go.

With Turtle putting a shell around Jones, Villanova's offense floundered and the inspired Griffins rolled. They exploded out of a 40-40 tie at the midway mark of the second half, getting fine scoring from Bill O'Connor, Tony Gennari and sub Frank Swiatek, and smothered the Wildcats 21-6 over the last 10 minutes.

Flynn poured in 13 of Providence's 16 points and set up another basket with a seal during a second half surge as the Friars won their 14th straight.

SYRACUSE IS TIED IN FIGHT FOR NBA TITLE

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We'll certainly dish it out Saturday night," declared Syracuse Coach Alex Hannum after the Cincinnati Royals had crushed his Nats 133-115 Thursday night and evened the best-of-5 Eastern Division semifinal National Basketball Association playoffs at 1-1.

Hannum referred to the third game of the series which will be played at Syracuse Saturday night.

Cincinnati's triumph was enlivened by a free-for-all late in the first half and Hannum asserted that the officials, Sid Borcia and Willie Smith, let the Royals do as they pleased, but blew the whistle at his Nats.

"We'll have to fight fire with fire," Hannum said. "We didn't come down here prepared for a game like this. But we'll certainly dish it out Saturday if we have to play that way to win."

TELLS OF FIGHT

The Royals denied Hannum's ed when Tom Hawkins and Al Bianchi grappled over a rebound under the Syracuse basket and fell to the floor.

Both benches emptied when the two went down, and a lot of punches were thrown. Observers said few, if any, were landed.

As for the game itself Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson proved the difference. He scored 41 points, grabbed 15 rebounds and handed out 12 assists.

The Western Division semifinal resumes tonight at St. Louis with the Hawks favored to take a 2-0 lead over the Detroit Pistons.

BOSTON (AP)—Referee Vern Buffey has a special reason for remembering the National Hockey League game of March 21 between two teams going nowhere. Boston blew a 1-0 lead, then came back and tied New York 2-2 in the lone NHL game Thursday night on the first goal of the season by defenseman Teddy Green, a 45-foot screened sizzler which developed from a faceoff.

Buffey was betted by an errant elbow. The bettor, Guy Gendron of the Bruins, drew a game misconduct. The penalty calls for a $50 fine and disposition by NHL President Clarence Campbell after he receives a written report from the official.

Buffey called a rare penalty shot at the outset of the third period when Boston defenseman Doug Mohns pulled down Andy Heberton from behind as the latter bore down on the Boston goal. Rookie goalie Ed Johnston stopped the shot but Heberton quickly slammed in the rebound—an illegal maneuver because only one shot is allowed.

The Netherlands is Europe's most densely populated nation.

TITLE HINGES ON REBOUNDS

By PETER SIMON

PLYMOUTH MEETING, Pa. (AP)—"A battle of rebounds"—that's how Plymouth-Whitemarsh coach Henry Stofko sees this Saturday's fight for the state PIAA Class A championship between his team and Norwin High School.

Stofko has jokingly threatened to pile his players piggyback to combat Norwin's 16-year-old 6-foot-9½ "Big John" Naponick.

But in serious moments Thursday Stofko said he wouldn't use a special defense for Naponick unless it begins to look like a better than average night for the Norwin star. Naponick averages more than 20 rebounds a game and up to 28 points per game.

Stofko said "the team that gets the most rebounds gets the most shots and has the advantage."

But he agreed with opposition coach Lyman Stough who said of the Plymouth-Whitemarsh team. "They rush the boards a lot their game appears to be boards."

Stofko said he may try to hold Naponick to his average while tightening the defense of the other Norwin players. If that doesn't work, Stofko said, he has a special defense to use against Naponick. Plymouth-Whitemarsh has an unbeaten record of 23 straight and a starting team of six footers. Norwin goes into the game with a 24-3 record.

Stofko said he looks for a very tight game.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former champion Davey Moore was in a coma suffering from "a serious head injury" and his chances of living are poor, a hospital physician said early today after the former champion lost his title to Sugar Ramos in one of three title fights here Thursday night.

Dr. Philip Vogel reported the former featherweight champion was in a deep coma.

"His chances are extremely poor," Dr. Vogel said. He added that Moore had suffered general injury to the mid-brain area and said that Moore's fate probably will be known within the next 12 hours.

ALBIE PEARSON LEADS ANGELS TO 5-3 VICTORY

By MIKE RATHET

Albie Pearson, the littlest Angel of them all, looks like he's over-natched every time he picks up a baseball bat. The way Pearson's been swinging lately, the bat must feel like a baton.

Pearson, 27, who stands just over 5-foot-5½ and weighs in at 141 pounds after eating, whipped the bat around at the Los Angeles camp again Thursday, leading the Angels to their seventh consecutive exhibition victory, 5-3, over San Francisco at Palm Springs, Calif. He stroked three hits, one a triple. Pearson also stole two bases, which brought quick smiles from Manager Bill Rigney.

The world champion New York Yankees had just finished their game with Washington on the other side of the country in Florida. The teams played to a 7-7, 11-inning tie in a 4-hour, 25-minute marathon at Pompano Beach.

TWINS LOSE 5TH
In two other extra inning affairs, Pittsburgh handed Minnesota its fifth loss in a row, 5-4 in 10 innings at Fort Myers and the New York Mets' used Charlie Neal's sacrifice fly in the 10th for a 2-1 triumph over Milwaukee at West Palm Beach.

Elsewhere, Al Kaline hit two homers as Detroit crushed Baltimore 11-1 at Lakeland, Cincinnati's Tommy Harper hit a pair in the Reds 7-6 squeaker over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, St. Louis whipped Kansas City 6-1 at St. Petersburg, Cleveland checked the Chicago Cubs 7-2 at Mesa, Ariz., Philadelphia defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 at Clearwater, Fla., and Boston edged Houston 4-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stockholders of the Philadelphia Eagles will soon vote on whether or not they are interested in selling the National League football team.

Frank L. McNamee, club president, said Thursday the poll was requested by two stockholders, brothers Charles L. and Daniel M. Tabas. Each owns one share of the club's 91 outstanding shares.

The Tabas brothers wrote club officials saying they "believe the majority of the shareholders would be pleased to see this fine team turned over to private and professional operators who would be able to devote more personal attention and interest to both the financial and playing success."

Sixty five persons hold the 91 shares. One of the stockholders opposed the idea of selling is Michael J. O'Neill, a co-voting trustee with McNamee. H controls 18 shares.

Both McNamee and O'Neill said earlier they were not interested in a reported offer of $4 million from Ralph Schneider of New York.

The Tabas brothers said that after consulting with out of town sports interests, "a consideration of $5 million or more would not be prohibitive."

The present stockholders bought the team's franchise for $250,000.

News Briefs

LONDON (AP) — Chances of victory for Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservatives in forthcoming national elections looked no better today after the party lost ground in a race for a House of Commons vacancy.

Conservative candidate Andrew Alexander finished third in a Yorkshire district, drawing only 15 per cent of the vote. In 1959 the Conservative candidate got 25 per cent of the vote and finished second in the Labor-dominated district.

The results were: Dr. Patrick Duffy, Labor, 18,033; Richard Wainwright, Liberal, 15,994; Alexander, 6,238; Arthur Fox, Independent, 226.

PARIS (AP) — Four-hour gas and electricity cuts added to the woes of strike-weary Frenchmen today. Thousands of Parisians got up an hour or two early to get to work before subways and electric trains were halted from 8 a.m. to noon.

Many offices gave employees the morning off.

The electricity and gas strikes were part of the rolling wave in nationalized industries which bring a new form of economic crippling to France almost daily.

Workers in the nationalized industries complain that their salaries have fallen far behind those in private industry.

A government commission is studying the comparative wage structures of private and nationalized industries. The report is expected to be finished tonight.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Swedes are getting thirstier and thirstier because of the liquor strike, in its fourth week. No settlement is in sight.

A third of Stockholm's 53 liquor stores have closed. Most of those still open have only expensive champagne and domestic beer on their shelves.

Foremen in the State Liquor Monopoly struck Feb. 28 for better vacation benefits, closing the government distilleries. Negotiators say the difference have not been narrowed.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Janos Kadar, Hungary's premier and Communist party boss, has declared a sweeping amnesty for political crimes, including participation in the abortive 1956 revolt. Cases of espionage and high treason were among the crimes not covered, and it was not clear whether the edict applies to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungary's Roman Catholic primate.

The cardinal was convicted in 1949 of conspiring with Western diplomats to overthrow the Communist regime and of engaging black market currency operations. He was freed during the 1956 revolt but took refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest when the revolt was crushed.

Ft. Gordon Revives Old Army Custom

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — With the command "Sound the Adjutant's Call" and the short, snappy response of the band, Ft. Gordon has revived an old, colorful Army tradition—the formal mounting of the guard.

From the First Training Regiment, the 36 members of the guard mount wore winter greens with trousers bloused over spit-shined boots. They were armed with rifles and wore helmeted liners.

This formal guard mount will be a weekly event in a continuing salute to customs of the U. S. Army. Such traditional ceremonies have almost become lost in the shuffle of space age progress, a Ft. Gordon spokesman said.

STOCKS STEADY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed a fairly steady tone in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Airlines were up as a group. Nonferrous metals were generally higher. Small gains and losses were intermingled in many groups.

For the second day running, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at noon, reading 256.5.

The economic background was reasonably bright. Retail sales and auto production were on the upgrade.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Henry K. Stoltzfuss, 25, of Ronks R. 1, died Thursday in Lancaster General Hospital of injuries suffered when his car hit a tree along Route 23 near Leola Tuesday.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Distance running star Jim Beatty is set to make his first run outdoors in the mile Saturday in a triangular track and field meet between Occidental College and the Los Angeles and Pasadena Track Clubs.

A 10 year plan for economic development undertaken by the government of Chile calls for an expansion of 55 per cent in the production of food crops and 69 per cent in livestock by 1970.

Two School Buses Crash On Bridge

AVONDALE, Pa. (AP) — Two school buses carrying children to classes in two different schools in Chester County collided today on a narrow bridge. Only one person was injured badly enough to require hospitalization.

Both drivers were shaken up but otherwise not hurt.

About 25 children were taken to the Community Memorial Hospital in Jenessville. Most suffer-

KENTUCKY, LARGELY DRY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky, the center of the nation's bourbon whisky industry, is the driest local-option state in the country, says the Rev. Walter House, Kentucky Temperance League director.

Ninety-four of Kentucky's 120 counties forbid the sale of alcoholic beverage.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Allen M. Snyder, 38, Mount Penn, Berks County, was appointed today to a public health physician in the state Health Department at an annual salary of $10,422.

Health Secretary C. L. Wilbar Jr. said Dr. Snyder will be in charge of medical management and over all administration of the state's rehabilitation center for alcoholism at Danville, effective on March 25.

Pa. Traffic Toll In 1962 Jumped

HARRISBURG (AP) — The number of persons killed in traffic accidents on Pennsylvania highways in 1962 increased by 139 over the previous year to a total of 1,625.

Secretary of Revenue Theodore Smith said today that Pennsylvania's fatality rate per 100 million miles increased from 3.7 in 1961 to 3.9 last year.

JAP PRINCESS HAS ABORTION

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Princess Michiko had an abortion today to protect her delicate health.

The Imperial Household Agency said the operation was successful and the princess, whose husband some day will be the emperor of Japan, was in generally good condition.

Crown Prince Akihito took or- chids to the 28-year-old princess soon after the operation.

Michiko, a sports-loving com- moner whose marriage four years ago thrilled the nation, expected her second baby in September or early October. Her first child, Prince Hiro, is now 3.

No official medical explanation has been given for the abortion. But a spokesman for the agency said before the operation it was believed Michiko's health had been impaired by a continuous round of official and social functions before pregnancy. Abortions are permitted under Japan's 1949 eugenics law if the attending physician certifies that giving birth would be injurious to the mother's health, that the child would be deformed or that it would become an intolerable eco- nomic burden.

The Cincinnati Reds grounded into 114 double plays in 1962. It was the lowest in the National League. Milwaukee hit into the most twin killings, 133.

Reds Move 3,000 Troops From Cuba; More To Leave This Month Says Kennedy

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says the Soviets have withdrawn some 3,000 troops from Cuba in recent weeks—and he hopes this is only a starter.

Kennedy told his news conference Thursday that "we are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope." But he said the scope of the withdrawal would not be fairly evident until the end of March.

When the Soviet Union promised last month to withdraw several thousand troops from Cuba by mid-March, the U.S. government estimated Soviet military and technical personnel in Cuba totaled about 17,000.

Kennedy opened the conference by reading a four-minute statement on this three days of talks this week at San Jose, Costa Rica, with the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

Said the President, who flew back to Washington late Wednesday:

"I return from San Jose with increased confidence that we will continue to live in a hemisphere of independent, firm and faithful friends."

Nothing that this was his third trip south of the border, Kennedy said that each one makes it clear that Latin Americans "by an overwhelming majority, are ready to work to sacrifice, to fight if necessary, to maintain their own freedom, and to build societies which serve the welfare of all their people."

In the domestic area, two topics were paramount.

Kennedy said, "We don't believe that there will be a recession this year," that economic indicators seem more encouraging. But, he said, later, if the economy falters and Congress wants to speed up its plan for a three-year tax cut of $10.2 billion, "I would accept that."

Under present conditions, he argued, the administration proposes a proper balance between lower taxes and higher spending on "what we regard as essential programs."

SUPPORTS McNAMARA

The President gave unqualified support to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's handling of the controversial TFX fighter plane contract, awarded to the General Dynamics Corp. despite the lower bid of Boeing Co. The more the Senate Investigations subcommittee explores the contract at hearings, Kennedy said, "the more convinced people are finally that Secretary McNamara is a very effective secretary of defense and that we are lucky to have him."

Kennedy said McNamara "is willing to make hard decisions" and doesn't mind "that a good many people don't like it." The President said McNamara rejected an appeal by Kennedy's own brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., concerning a contract award.

Also in the domestic field, the President said there is nothing to reports that Postmaster General J. Edgar Day will resign before 1964 election.

The President's hopes for a nuclear test ban agreement with the Soviet Union "are somewhat dimmed" but he said the United States will continue working toward that end "because personally I am haunted by the feeling that by 1970, unless we are successful, there may be 10 nuclear powers instead of four, and by 1975, 15 or 20."

HEARINGS ON SCHOOL BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A total of 15 school districts and organizations have scheduled appearances next week before a joint House-Senate hearing on Gov. Scranton's school district reorganization bill.

The hearing will be held March 27, 28, April 3, 4 in the House caucus room of the Capitol.

Already scheduled to testify are: Pennsylvania State Grange; the Pennsylvania Farmers Association; Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce; Columbia County Board of School Directors; Pennsylvania State Association of Twp. Supervisors; Braddock Hills School District; Derry Twp. Community Action Committee; Edgewood School District; Fox Chapel area School District; Jenkintown School District; Kutztown Area Schools; Loyalsock Twp. School District; Twp. School District; Mt. The charge: Knocking L. N. Mulen off a bar stool with a snowball.

Hisey got a 60-day suspended jail sentence and two years probation.

EX-AUSTRIAN CHANCELLOR IS PROF NOW

By TOM PENDERGAST

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—As former Austrian Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg looks back 25 years into history, his face flinches with the memories.

The man Hitler personally persecuted is now 66 and a professor of political science at St. Louis University. Despite seven years of imprisonment and torture by the Gestapo, he looks more like 50.

"Life has not been easy on me," he said in a rare interview. "I don't like to talk about it—with anyone. In fact, I am a fanatical believer in privacy."

25TH ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-five years ago this month on March 11, 1938, Nazi Germany invaded his homeland, and Schuschnigg resigned in a famous national radio address, imploring: "God protect Austria!"

When Hitler struck he ordered Schuschnigg held in "protective custody."

Schuschnigg doesn't like to think about those years, he said. But this week he went to the St. Louis library to read old newspapers from those tempestuous times.

7 YEARS OF HELL

He said Nazi terror tactics practiced against him during what he called "seven years of hell" and those practiced by some Communist nations appear identical.

"I think the Russians started it first during their revolution, and the Gestapo merely amplified it."

While imprisoned in Vienna he married, by proxy, the late Countess Vera Fugger von Babenhausen. The Nazis later imprisoned her with Schuschnigg in Munich, where their daughter, Sissy, was born.

EXECUTION ORDERED

"I'll never forget when they transferred us to Dachau," dreaded extermination camp for political prisoners and Jews, he said. "Just before American troops arrived a British prisoner showed me a typed and signed execution order for me and my family. But we were saved at the last minute."

Say Red Refineries Hit By Sabotage

ROTTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP)—Shipping sources Thursday expressed concern about delays in loading of oil tankers in Soviet Black Sea ports.

They said at least seven ships have been tied up in Tuapse, the terminal of the Caucasian network of oil pipelines, for 8 to 14 days.

A recent Norwegian report of fires in Soviet oil refineries drew a Soviet denial, but Norwegian sources said it was established that three fires set by saboteurs have been raging in refineries at Novorossisk.

Decide No Link Between Sweets And Tooth Decay

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Long-term analysis of children's cavities and their diet fails to support the theory that eating sweets increases tooth decay, a University of Oregon dental researcher said today.

Dr. Rosario H. Yap said neither between-meal snacks nor meals with high sugar content make any difference in the number of cavities.

Dr. Yap reported the results of a nine-year study to scientists attending the 41st general meeting of the International Association for Dental Research.

PEAK AT 8-9 YEARS

Used in the study were 20 girls and 17 boys "from a middle socio-economic class, having reasonably good dental care, living in a non-fluoride community."

Dr. Yap said there is a characteristic peak in number of cavities at age 8 or 9, leading to the suggestion that is related to some other factor than intake of refined sugar items.

In another report, scientists were told that even when a person is sleeping, he may grit his teeth and swallow—probably in well-defined cycles of activity lasting from 15 minutes to an hour.

Dr. Robin N. owell of the Eastman Dental Dispensary in Rochester, N. Y., studied subjects while they were asleep, using tiny radio transmitters mounted on their teeth.

DRILLS ARE HAZARD

Powell said swallowing usually occurs 24 to 36 times in each six-hour night, and sleepers' teeth make contact on as many as 200 other occasions in the same period.

Two University of Iowa researchers reported that a spray of micro-organisms from a patient's mouth that can be caused by high speed dental drills present a potential health hazard to dentists.

Drs. Richard M. Madden and William J. Hausler Jr. said preliminary studies indicate that high speed dental drills produce an aerosol of bacteria tiny enough to enter the air sacs of the lung.

Say Democrat Is Winner In Minn.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Democrat Karl Rolvaag is the duly elected governor of Minnesota, three judges who supervised a recount of the more than million and a quarter ballots cast in the Nov. 6 election said in a formal order late Thursday.

Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen indicated he might have a statement today on whether the finding would be appealed to the Minnesota Supreme Court. The recount showed him loser to Rolvaag by 91 votes.

The judges ordered that, barring an appeal, a certificate to election be issued to Rolvaag on April 1, which would mean he could take office the next day.

That 10-day lag could be shortened should Andersen decide against an appeal and sign a court agreement to that effect.

FFA AND YOUNG

Farmers of America.

Ralph Beamer introduced the school directors, Donald Black the past FFA president, George Wagner the Young Farmer guests and Harold Heutner the teachers and other guests.

FFA President Terry Taylor presided at a ceremony raising Ralph Beamer, Donald Black and Randy Dively from "greenhand" to "Chapter Farmer," presenting each with a pin and certificate.

Steven Slaybaugh, an FFA member whose father, Richard Slaybaugh, had been an FFA member at Arendtsville Vocational School, spoke on "Opportunities for Employment in Agriculture."

Upper Adams School Superintendent Donald B. Hudson said the agriculture students and urged parents to assist their sons in getting programs started.

"HOW TO SUCCEED"

Paul Fissel, whose Biglerville R. D. farm has won numerous county and state honors this year, stressed four points in a talk on "How to Achieve the Most in Farming." He said, "You must have a love for the kind of work you are doing, enough working capital, good animals and produce a quality product that people will want and, probably most important, have a good wife to help with the work."

Agricultural Education Teacher John White presented gold medals from the National FFA Foundation to Dale Weaver and Lonnie Shultz, who won the awards with their work in farm mechanics during the last year.

TOP SEED SALESMAN

White also showed slides of activities of the Future Farmers and Young Farmers.

A check in lieu of an FFA jacket was presented to Steven Slaybaugh for selling the highest amount of seeds during the annual sale conducted by the FFA. Slaybaugh had previously won a jacket for having the highest number of points in a chapter contest. Tony Showers was announced as winner of an FFA shirt for being second high in seed sales. Donald Black, who was third high in seed sales, was presented with cash because he had previously won an FFA tie—the normal award given.

The greeters committee for the dinner: Donald Weaver, Harold Garretson and William Lower, and their wives presented flowers to each mother or wife attending.

STUDENT AID

dorsed by the Pennsylvania Bankers Association and the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

C. A. Wills, president of the Gettysburg National, said, "Since the end of World War II the average cost of going to college has more than doubled, from $800 up to $2,000 per year and educators predict that the cost may reach $3,000 per year by 1970. These increased costs make it difficult for many serious, qualified students to obtain the important benefits of college education. Through the HELP plan, our bank is now in a legal position to make loans to students who genuinely need assistance because required expenses for college exceed anticipated financial resources of either the student or his or her parents, and who would not qualify for loans under regular commercial requirements. However, applications will be restricted to residents of our trade area."

Additional information on the HELP plan can be obtained from the bank. Mr. Wills pointed out that the HELP plan is available to students who have completed the first year of all accredited or approved higher education institutions including nursing schools, medical schools and business schools in addition to colleges and universities. The approval of such institutions comes from the United Student Aid Funds headquarters.

Eastman Quartet Plays Here

The Eastman String Quartet, which has toured extensively for the arts program of the Association of American Colleges, will present a concert Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Christ Chapel on the Gettysburg College campus. The quartet includes Francis Bundra, violinist; Joseph Knitzer, violinist; George Miquelle, cellist; and John Celentano, violinist.

The four musicians, each a distinguished performer in his own right, will present three groups of selections here. They will include Beethoven's "Quartet in G Major, Opus 18, No. 2"; "Quartet in G Minor, Opus 10" by Claude Debussy and "Quartet in E Flat, Opus 51" by Dvorak.

In the spring of 1960 the quartet was selected by the State Department to play about 30 concerts in the Middle and Near East and in Africa.

Knitzer, who made his debut as a soloist at 14 with the New York Philharmonic under Walter Damrosch, graduated with highest honors at the Institute of Musical Art and studied at the Juillard Graduate School. Celentano teaches chamber music and violin at Eastman School and is concertmaster of the Eastman Chamber Orchestra. Bundra is a member of the Rochester Philharmonic and the Rochester Civic Orchestra. Miquelle has toured with the New York Chamber Music Society and was cellist with the Detroit String Quartet.

Warn 30 Students On Steady Dating

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Rev. James A. Carey, who has outlawed steady dating at St. Michael's Roman Catholic High School, warned Thursday that 30 students faced expulsion if they didn't heed his ban by Monday.

After he made this announcement at a school assembly, Father Carey said, most of the 30 came to him voluntarily and said they'd abide by the order.

Father Carey put his ban against steady dating into effect March 1, warning students they would be expelled if they did not break off with their "steadies."

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The nine women of the Arizona House of Representatives are on the warpath.

A sign on the rostrum read: "House Memorial 3 on the debate calendar or else." It was signed, "The Women."

House Memorial 3 urges Congress to repeal the luxury tax on the sale of handbags. The women claim handbags are the same as pockets in a man's trousers and thus a necessity, not a luxury.

indicated that the community is failing to preserve its history for younger generations. Government in a democracy, democratic leadership, and problems of individual and social responsibility are other subjects to be considered for study next season.

Although the present study group has discontinued formal discussion meetings, study and discussion focused on specific problems brought out during the winter sessions will be continued by subgroups. These subgroups will study obstacles and local resources for taking action on problems of increasing employment opportunity, improving local government, getting a more fair and equitable tax system, and planning and zoning. Existing community groups and organizations interested in these problems will be asked to join forces to clarify the need in any or all of these areas and to help plan possible courses of action.

GOOD GROUP

An evaluation of the course by a Penn State questionnaire at the last session revealed that this was an outstanding group in participation and contribution to discussion objectives. Members indicated that their ideas have changed in a number of areas and each member has expressed the desire to enroll in another study discussion program. One class session was postponed, and attendance for the 10 sessions of three hours each was 85 per cent.

Enrolled in the course were: Dr. and Mrs. V. F. Group, Donald Tyson, Myles Starner, Randolph Metz, Henry Sempeke, Mrs. Ralph Tyson, Mrs. John Hartlaub, Mr. and Mrs. George Schriver, Attorney Gerald Walmer, Philip Tyson and Harold Grove.

Wisecracking Slayer Of 5 Is Executed At Sing Sing

OSSENING, N.Y. (AP) — Five-time killer Frederick C. Wood was executed in Sing Sing Prison's electric chair Thursday night after anticipating death with a wisecrack and a smile.

To the end, Wood repudiated the efforts of persons he termed "do gooders" to gain him a reprieve. A derelict who had spent 30 of his 51 years in prison, Wood said he had no wish for further life behind bars.

Instead, he pleaded for an opportunity to "ride the lightning" of the electric chair.

"EDUCATIONAL PROJECTS"

Wood arrived for his "ride" at 10:01 p.m. Four minutes later he had come to the end of the journey.

As he entered the death house of the prison 35 miles north of New York City Wood looked around and cracked to the witnesses:

"I have a speech to make on an educational project. You will see the effect of electricity on Wood. Enjoy yourself."

Then, laughing, Wood walked to the electric chair with a cigarette dangling from his mouth, brushed the chair off with his hand and calmly told the assemblage:

"I'll be with you in a moment. Wait'll I get through with my cigarette."

FOUGHT TO SAVE HIM

He tossed the cigarette to the floor and sat down as guards strapped him into the death chair. He was still smiling when the traditional black hood was lowered over his face.

Lawyers and New York Civil Liberties Committee spokesmen who did not even know Wood fought to the last to save him, contending he was insane. Hours before the execution, three associate U.S. Supreme Court justices turned the appeal down, and Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to intercede.

CLAIMED INSANITY

Psychiatrists had pronounced Wood legally sane during his prosecution, but attorney Norman Dorson contended in a last-ditch appeal that there was enough evidence of insanity in Wood's history to indicate he was insane.

Dorson, a New York University associate professor of law, filed a petition in Washington asking Supreme Court Justice John Harlan to stay Wood's execution to permit a sanity hearing. Harlan turned it down without comment.

In a letter from Sing Sing's death row, Wood had declared:

"I have had three stays of execution thus far, one automatic (beyond my control) and two effected by well-intentioned lawyers, as 'do gooders.'"

"I want no more. I really want to ride the lightning. I do not welcome any intrusion into this stinking case of mine."

Wood was condemned for beating to death John Rescigo, 62, and Frederick Sess, 78, during a 1960 wine drinking party in New York City. Less than five weeks earlier, he had been paroled from a 17-year prison term levied for the 1942 fatal beating of an Elmira, N.Y., man.

After his arrest for the 1960 slayings, Wood confessed two slayings of which the authorities had not known—of a 16-year-old girl friend in 1926 and of an Elmira woman in 1933.

TO DEDICATE BUSIEST NEW U. S. AIRPORT

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP) — The world's busiest airport, Chicago's O'Hare International, is an immense jet age layout that has become almost a city in itself.

When President Kennedy attends dedication ceremonies Saturday, he will find a sprawling 7,200-acre installation that serves 13½ million passengers a year and handles nearly a flight a minute on the average. Located 21 miles northwest of downtown Chicago, the airport has parking facilities for 5,700 cars and can feed 1,500 persons at a time in its biggest restaurant.

It represents a $200-million investment.

AIR CROSSROADS

O'Hare has become an air crossroads of the world. Nonstop service is provided to many foreign cities. Seven foreign airlines and 14 domestic airlines use its facilities.

With more than 400,000 flights last year, O'Hare surpassed New York's Idlewild Airport traffic of 11,510,390 passengers and 290,133 flights.

The present development — two new terminal buildings and a $5-million glass-steel circular restaurant featuring a seven-continent dining room—was financed by $149 million worth of revenue bonds.

NAMED FOR HERO

The terminal buildings, each 750 feet long and 110 feet wide, were built at a cost of $35 million. They are connected to six 1,000-foot concourses with 58 plane gates.

The arm-like concourses have highly mobile enclosed ramps called jetways which reach out to airliners and telescope away when not needed.

O'Hare was named for Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare, a World War II hero.

Named by President Roosevelt one of the greatest combat fliers in aviation history, O'Hare shot down five Japanese bombers and damaged a sixth in single-handed action over the Pacific, Feb. 20, 1942, saving his carrier. He received the Medal of Honor from President Roosevelt. O'Hare disappeared in night action over the Pacific Dec. 10, 1943.

Woman Is Rescued From Susquehanna

HARRISBURG (AP) — Firemen waded into the Susquehanna River about 10 miles north of here Thursday night to rescue an unconscious woman from her car after it had crashed through a guard rail along Route 22 and it plunged down a 65-foot embankment.

Mrs. Charlotte C. Hines, 38, of Dauphin R. 1, was held overnight at Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg for observation and x-rays. Her condition was described as satisfactory.

State police said Mrs. Hines was driving alone about 8:20 p.m. when her car failed to negotiate a curve, jumped a concrete median strip and ran off the highway. The car tumbled down the embankment and stopped in four feet of water. The accident occurred at Speeceville, a small community located on the river's east bank.

Widow Established Rubbish Agency

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Faced with the responsibility of raising two young children after her husband was killed in World War II, Mrs. Eleanor Brown turned a neighborhood problem into a thriving business.

She got the idea from hearing neighbors grumble about inadequate rubbish collection service. Today she heads a community sanitation service with more than 20 trucks, a modern service building and equipment for collecting refuse from more than half of Toledo's industry and hundreds of suburban residential customers.

Sermon For The Week

By REV. DR. NORMAN WOLF

WHY JUDAS?

Text: "... and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him." Matthew 10:14

There is something startling about the fact that Jesus chose Judas for a disciple. But there can be no doubt that He saw in him a character essential to His mission. Surely Jesus did not choose disciples haphazardly nor mistakenly, so that, as in the case of Judas, the choice would become a frustrating disappointment. A marvelous testimony to the ability of Jesus to see to the very core of human character, presented in the Gospel of St. John, chapter 2:24, 25, throws light on the choice of Judas: "But Jesus did not commit Himself to them, because He knew all men, and needed not that any man should testify of men, for He knew what was in man." In the light of this declaration let us examine briefly the role played by Judas and seek to discover the reason for his choice.

Through the ages Judas has been reviled in the most caustic manner possible. But he merits understanding as well as reviling. We may be sure that the role he played in God's redemptive scheme was basic, even imperative, in the Saviour's mission. It is in such a light that his discipleship should be understood.

OLD ADAGE HOLDS

The old adage surely holds true for Judas, "The child is father to the man." Starting from this as a cue we can safely assume, since Judas was the only disciple chosen out of Judea, that he was a true-blue Jew; that he knew intimately and was aware of the attitude of the religious leaders towards Jesus; that he also, being a zealot, shared with them the same political aspirations and expectations of the Messiah Whose coming they awaited in the hope of the splendor and might of a re-established kingdom of David and of the expulsion of the Roman rule from Palestine; that he was obsessed with the love of the things of this world, so that for 30 pieces of silver he freely agreed to deliver Jesus into the power of the high priest and the sanhedrin.

We furthermore may assume that he was both surprised too receive and delighted to accept the invitation to become a disciple of Jesus for the reasons implied in the popular Jewish Messianic expectations. It could not have been long, however, until he began to wonder, to be surprised and puzzled by Jesus' teachings and manner of life; until he began to doubt and question seriously whether things were tending; from doubt he veered into disappointment which was mingled with serious disagreement.

all of which landed him in disillusionment and finally bred in him growing hatred when he became convinced that Jesus was not the Messiah they were looking for, and now he was ready for the betraying kiss in Gethsemane.

"ONE IS A DEVIL"

"That Jesus knew 'His man' we cannot doubt. What else can His sayings mean: 'I know whom I have chosen'; and 'Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil!' Or this — 'The Son of man goeth as it is written of Him, but woe unto that man by whom He is betrayed; good were it for that man if he had not been born.' Finally when the moment for action had come, the record states — 'Then Satan entered into Judas, surnamed Iscariot," when Jesus said to him: "What thou doest, do quickly."

Scripture makes clear that Jesus entered into human form for one purpose only — that, by offering Himself as a satisfying sacrifice for sin, to break the power of the devil and open the way for man's redemption. John the Baptist introduced Him as "The Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world"; in another place He is identified as "The Lamb of God, slain from the foundation of the world." Jesus Himself declared that "He must be killed." The conclusion is clearly drawn — Jesus had to die as the all-atoning sacrifice for the sins of men, and His death was the offering of Divine love and mercy as it is described in John 3:16.

HOW TO KILL

How then was His death to be accomplished? Not by accident nor by suicide; not at the hands of a sneaking murderer nor by a hand of cut throats; not by some stroke of supernatural origin. None of these forms of meeting death would have mediated divine love nor satisfied divine judgment against sin. Here, Judas, by every cue provided by Scripture, fits in exactly. This is the moment precisely Jesus referred to when He said that He knew whom He had chosen.

In the full possession of the powers of hell, Judas decided on the betrayal, not by any fatalistic, arbitrary decree of blind fate; neither by any compulsion sent from God or imposed by Jesus; not from any external, superimposed power which could crush his will, but solely and entirely, the betrayal was his own deliberate act, made in the utmost freedom of his will, a will, however, that was completely activated by Satan; thus making him responsible for the act without casting any reflection or blame on Jesus.

THE BETRAYAL

In and through Judas heaven and hell clashed — if indeed it may be thought of as "a clash." The moment had come when "the seed of the woman would crush the serpent's head." The divine majesty and power of the Son of God, wielding "the Sword of the Spirit" slew "The Great Dragon" and set man free.

So, the reason why Jesus called Judas, black soul that he was, into the circle of disciples, and purely on His prescience, had now reached its finale in the betrayal. All generations of men, born in sin, may well give God thanks for this choice. By it the sluice gates of hell were opened wide to pour all the fury of evil against the omnipotence of heaven. And though momentarily, darkness overshadowed Calvary, through that shade cried the victorious voice — "It is finished." The freedom, of which Jesus declared — "If the Son shall set you free, you shall be free indeed," had been achieved.

What Do I Wish?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pam can't keep a secret. She'll probably tell us what she wished before the cake is half eaten.

Whatever her wish, it will be for a little girl type of thing.

But—what of me? What do I wish for my daughter? Success in a career . . . happy marriage . . . children . . . a beautiful home . . . a fair share of worldly goods . . . health . . . happiness?

I suppose I wish all of these things for Pam, in some measure. But if I had to limit myself to a single wish—I would ask for her a deep and abiding faith. How wonderful it is to have an unshaken belief in God's ways and His works, plus the conviction of His love for us.

Some of us may be limited in our ability to give our children material things, but we need never stint on teaching them spiritual values. Start taking your children to church and church school this Sunday.

HIGHWAY DEPT. JOB CUTBACK TO BE STUDIED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Highways Department officials and union leaders will meet again Monday to continue their discussion of a 10 per cent job cutback.

The groups held a 45-minute session Wednesday after which Tony Fiorello, executive director of the Pennsylvania State Employees Council, said:

"It was a good meeting and a good beginning. We presented our views, asked some questions and they agreed to come up with concrete answers at the meeting on Monday."

1,060 FURLOUGHED

Fiorello and two aides met with acting Highways Secretary Wilbur C. Webb and Deputy Secretary Lester Burlein.

Fiorello said the union asked to review and discuss the 1,060 employees furloughed under a Feb. 27 order. The review would include future furloughs.

"We are not in sympathy with the type of controlling devices they would have," Webb maintained. He said he considered the review feature a controlling device.

"There can be no official agreement with the union," Webb continued, "but Secretary (Henry D.) Harrel has said he would attempt to go along with the spirit of the union's program so far as possible."

Harrel is recovering from a re-

Light Reading Means Tax Report

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — A little light reading for Eleanor Milne might be the latest report of the Canadian Tax Foundation. Where once she read reports of this nature only out of interest, she now studies them as part of her job. She's the only woman appointed by Prime Minister Diefenbaker to the six-member Royal Commission on Taxation.

Her interest in finances started early, when at 11 she was elected treasurer of her church's girls' auxiliary.

She met chartered accountant Stanley Milne while she was in charge of preparing the audit of a mortgage and loan company. But before she married him in 1932 she became Western Canadian branch manager of an international insurance company.

cent heart attack.

Fiorello said he asked the department's position on reports that some county superintendents had said the men who took part in one-day work stoppages last Thursday and Friday would not be paid for the time lost.

Webb said there was no departmental order to withhold pay from men who stayed off the job unless they reported an unsubstantiated illness. Most of the men claimed a day's vacation, which is permitted without prior approval under department rules.

"They'll be paid if they took vacation time, but I consider that rule a weakness and we intend to do something about it," Webb said.

Skip the sulphur and molasses— get a CHEVROLET SUPER SPORT

Chevrolet Super Sports* have a charm that soothes your springtime yen for romantic adventure as fast as you can slip into a bucket seat. (Especially the Impala's, with its adjustable new Comfortilt steering wheel*.) And the charm lasts all year round. Match that, old-time tonics! In fact, match that, anybody! Front bucket seats are a great start, but Super Sports also feature plush all-vinyl interiors, special interior-exterior trim in tasteful touches, and a veritable feast of goodies we call performance options*. A modest enough phrase to describe tailored-to-your-taste-action, from brisk to utterly overwhelming. Chevrolet and Chevy II Super Sports invite adventure in convertible or coupe form. Think that's all? You don't know Chevrolet! That same Super Sport zing applies to the Corvair Monza Spyder, very breezy with its air-cooled 150-horsepower rear-mounted engine, 4-speed shift* and an outlook made for green country lanes. Ditto for the new Corvette Sting Ray, a magnificent thoroughbred among pureblood sports cars with not a single sacrifice in comfort. Both Spyder and Sting Ray come in coupe or convertible styles. All Chevrolet Super Sports are like spring days—you've got to get out in them to savor them. So catch yourself a passing zephyr and waft on down to your Chevrolet showroom.

"MILLIONAIRE" TO LEAVE CBS TV SCHEDULE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Since 1955, a faceless tycoon named John Beresford Tipton has given away close to a billion and a half stage dollars on television. Come fall, however, this fictitious font of philanthropy will dry up.

"The Millionaire," the television dramatic series based on the gimmick of handing a different person a million-dollar check from an anonymous donor, bowed onto the CBS network. No one ever saw this rich benefactor—just his hands or the top of his head—but his secretary, played by actor Marvin Miller, busily ran around setting up the dramas by distributing largesse.

In September, "The Millionaire" departs from CBS' daytime schedule. But even if "The Millionaire" has finally gone broke, the producers of the show have done very nicely with their investment.

MINOW'S IMPACT

One of the most obvious facts of television life to the observant viewer has been the impact of the views of Newton N. Minow, Federal Communications Commission chairman, on television programming and content for the past two seasons.

Minow created a storm when he labeled television a "vast wasteland," and his strong criticism of violence, mayhem, sex, murder, and prolonged fights resulted in a notable diminution of all in network shows.

He called for more and better children's programming—and all three networks responded. He has spoken in favor of more and better public affairs and information shows—and network emphasis has continued on their output in these largely unprofitable commercial areas.

ADMIT EFFECT

The effect of Minow on television programming, however, is now official. It has been established by a survey ordered by an advertising agency.

A Union City, N.J., agency (Vetnet) reports that a TV rating service (Trendex) queried 100 high-level programming executives—and received answers from 43 of them—on whether Minow's call for more balanced programming and diverse fare had influenced their thinking. Almost half of the 43 admitted it had. The other half insisted they were trying to improve quality before feeling FCC pressures.

Twenty-three per cent of those answering admitted softening

Probe Sabotage In Plane Crash

CUNEO, Italy (AP)—The state attorney in Cuneo opened a formal inquiry today to determine if sabotage caused the Alpine crash of King Saud's jet enroute from Geneva to Nice.

A spokesman said one object of the inquiry was to check a report that there might have been a bomb aboard the plane, which crashed off course in fog and clouds early Wednesday. All 18 persons aboard were killed. They included nine members of the Saudi Arabian king's household and four American crewmen.

The bomb report was published in an Italian paper, which quoted a Radio Mecca broadcast of a message purportedly sent by the king from Nice.

In Nice, however, the king's chief of protocol denied that Saud had made such a charge.

The plane had taken Saud and most of his party to Nice on Tuesday. It returned to Geneva for more members of the royal party and much of the party's baggage, and was on the way back to Nice when it crashed.

Officials at the Geneva airport said they had no reason to suspect sabotage. They said the plane had been heavily guarded while at Geneva.

WHAT AILS EVERYBODY?

Dandruff attacks most of the human race at some time. It is estimated that 95 per cent of all Americans have been or will be troubled by the disorder.

Teens and young adults seem to be the favorite targets, but the ailment occurs at all ages. The excessively oily or dry scalp is particularly susceptible. In dry scalps the visible symptom is flake—the kind that drifts onto collars and shoulders. Oily scalps develop a scaly condition.

In treating dandruff, scrupulous cleanliness is basic. The hair should be washed no less than twice weekly. There is value in washing with dandruff or sebalic shampoos, especially when the scalp exudes oil.

Dry scalp responds to shampoos formulated for dry hair and a dandruff rinse. The virtue of such rinses is their power to tame flake and irritation, and yet condition the hair—to increase luster and manageability.

As auxiliary treatments, gentle brushing and massage come highly recommended. But the hands and the brush that do the work must be hospital-clean. Bacteria on the scalp are thought to trigger dandruff. So to inhibit their growth you have to be as fussy as a surgeon about scrubs-up.

Other than its proper treatment, there is a vital point to be made about dandruff. It should not be confused with more serious scalp problems. Eruptions and widespread irritations are not dandruff, and should be cared for by a doctor.

COMMUNITY OF MT. ATHOS IS IN AGED GROUP

By PHILIP DOPOULOS
MOUNT ATHOS, Greece (AP)—This year the Eastern Orthodox Christian community of Mount Athos joins the very select group of institutions that have survived for one thousand years.

A celebration of the millennium started this month at a meeting held in Istanbul by the Greek Orthodox Patriarch Athanasios, under whose spiritual leadership the holy community depends. Further celebrations will be held in Athens and Salonika in May and 250 guests will be invited for commemorative services on Mount Athos during the latter part of May.

It was in 963 that Emperor Nicephorus Phocas issued a golden bull, or charter, to Saint Athanasios the Athonite to establish a monastery on the end of this 30-mile-long, mountainous, narrow peninsula.

MONASTERY FOUNDED

When Phocas earlier fought the Saracens on the island of Crete he had called upon Saint Athanasios for devout prayer to the Almighty. Winning, Phocas issued the golden bull and the monastery of Megisti Lavra was founded the same year.

Today there are 20 major monasteries on the remote peninsula. Eleven are cenobitic, where everything is shared and food partaken in the refectory; nine are idiorhythmic, where property can be held and food is cooked separately in each monk's cell.

Worship is the same in all the monasteries. All the monks pray in the main church from around 2 a.m. until about 8 a.m., except on the eves of the saints and feast days, when all-night vigils can reach up to 14 hours. Two-thirds of the days of the year are fast days, when no wine and not even oil may be partaken. Meat is never allowed in the cenobitic monasteries.

THEIR BASIC BELIEF

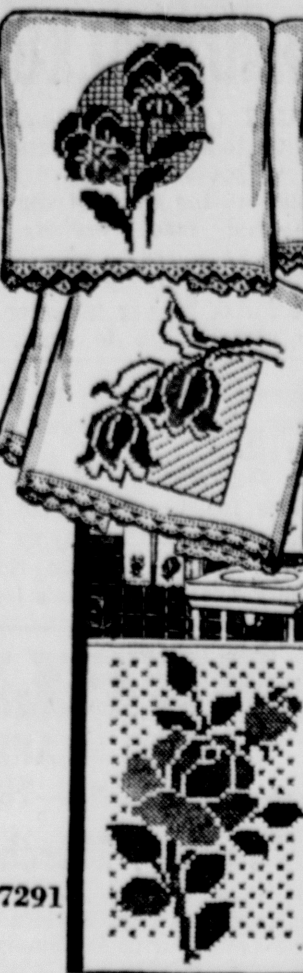

The basic belief of the monks is that their lives are but transient and therefore can be disregarded in man's purpose and destiny. The ideal is man's approximation to the divine and the Athonite monks attempt to proceed as far toward this objective as possible while they are on earth.

They believe that achievement of that objective can only be secured by escape from the turmoil of the world. They believe noise distracts them from the divine contemplation which is essential to approach the ideal. Their way to keep their minds to the point is continual prayer, penance and simplicity.

The majority of the 2,000 monks in the community are Greek and all monks on being accepted automatically acquire Greek nationality. Monks can be accepted only after being attached as a novice to an elder for at least a year. In the last 10 years, Athos has been averaging 25 novices a year.

25,000 WOMEN WILL COMPETE IN WIBC MEET

By BILL CRIDER
MEMPHIS (AP)—The noisy spring festival that involves some 25,000 women in an athletic scramble for cash and glory opens here April 4.

It's the annual National tournament, sponsored by the Women's International Bowling Congress (WIBC), which expects to put up a prize pot of about $150,000.

The huge national is the most democratic of sporting events. Any woman who bowled at least 12 games in a WIBC-approved league by December 1 was eligible. Deadline for entering: January 10.

Thunder in the 48 lane bowling palace, a dream in cream, gold and blue, will spread over eight weeks. Another tournament, the WIBC's Queens Championship, will follow.

Easy requirements and the relatively painless entry fee of $6 aim at bringing out the modest amateurs, backbone of a flourishing business.

COME FROM AFAR

"Our biggest job is selling these new bowlers who sort of flinch away when they hear the word 'National,'" says Freda Botkin, who handles tournament promotions.

Over the 46 years of the event, the message has gotten home with such success that amateurs now trek to the National from places like Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico.

"Many of them save all year long for this," says Mrs. Botkin, approvingly.

A basic attraction is you never know when lightning will strike in bowling.

A hot streak long enough to cover three to nine games can make a tournament tiger out of an unheralded tabby.

NINE GAMES

Nine games get you through the team, doubles and singles.

"Take one of the big winners last year," recalls Mrs. Botkin. "She had been doing poorly for her team. There were times when her team could cheerfully have killed her. Then she hits the National and bang! everything clicks."

Another thing about bowling: Any amateur who wins gets the cash. Unlike other sports, there is no question about whether an amateur may accept money.

The National will be loaded with most of the big name professionals. But so many tiger-tabbies have turned up no pro has ever won this event.

Any pro who wants in the five-day Queens that opens May 6 must first bowl in the National. The Queens carries a cash pot of $17,127.

FIRST SOUTHERN TOURNEY

The bulk of out-of-town amateurs in the National try to make their trips amuse to their stuff during weekend periods. This will be the first time the tournament has been held in the South.

Action in the team, doubles and singles usually means a contestant must remain at the scene at least overnight.

Many stay around considerably longer, particularly the delegates to the three-day WIBC convention, opening April 29, and those who make the trip their vacation.

The ladies, with competence determined by league average, compete in two divisions. For the first time, separation of the hotshots and the gutter rollers by division also will extend to doubles and singles play.

About 1,430 women will be in their swinging each day.

Airman Larry G. Weikert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Baker, Ottumwa R. 1, has been reassigned to Greenville AFB, Miss., for technical training as an Air Force personnel specialist. He has completed his initial basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas. He is a 1962 graduate of Gettysburg High School.

'T WAS A COLD DAY

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP)—Fred Jackson, porter at the St. Louis County Courthouse in Clayton, learned one thing this winter: you don't hose down the sidewalk when it's almost zero.

Jackson's lack of attention to the temperature created a huge expanse of ice on the wide concrete sidewalks and approaches to the courthouse. It looked some like a skating rink.

Witnesses said dignified county officials stepped like ballerinas as they cautiously negotiated the ice to the courthouse front door.

Jackson, meanwhile, was sent out with a ice chopper and rock salt to undo his work.

The Yankees and Athletics found the Washington Senators to be "baseball cousins" during 1962. Both teams won 15 out of 18 games from the tailenders.

Laundry Tub Babe In Good Condition

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A girl about three-months old was reported in good health today after being found in a dry laundry tub in the basement of a suburban Brentwood apartment house.

Doctors at St. Joseph's Hospital said the infant had a slight cold but was doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Krider Jr. discovered the baby after they heard cries coming from the basement. She was dressed in a pink, blue and white blanket. The Kriders called police, who took her to the hospital, and then began a search for the parents.

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A total of $12,569 has been collected so far for a Butler County widow and her son who lost seven members of their family in a fire.

Donations have poured in from throughout the nation for Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenberg, 39, and her only surviving son, David, 20. Mrs. Rosenberg lost her husband, six children and a nephew when fire wrecked their farm home at Portersville on March 10.

MIAMI (AP)—Donald D. Pomerleau reported for work and was being shown his office, when bricks and debris fell around him.

Workmen, making a doorway between two rooms assigned to Pomerleau, had broken through a wall.

Pomerleau, Miami's new public safety director, retreated and watched at a safe distance.

Today's AP News Digest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union will open new talks on Berlin soon, probably next week. But authorities here find nothing encouraging or reassuring in the prospect.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev appears to be caught in a severe Communist leadership crisis at present, and this is authoritatively interpreted to preclude any substantial moves for improvement in Soviet relations with the Western powers.

At best, as Washington now assesses the evidence, Khrushchev must mark time on major East-West issues. At worst, he may press unacceptable demands upon the West.

Internal difficulties and his continuing quarrel with Red Chinese leaders suggest the possibility that he might regard a new flareup in the long dispute over Berlin as a desirable diversion.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow was informed by the foreign office earlier this week that the Soviet government would be ready to start the Berlin talks "in the near future."

The outlook now is that the initial talks will be held here between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin beginning by the end of next week.

U.S. officials are still puzzled by the Soviet purpose in starting up the talks again. The last round was concluded in October, just before the Cuban crisis erupted. Since that time the Soviets have not proposed any new ideas for a settlement although Khrushchev has spoken publicly about replacing the flags of the United States, Britain and France in West Berlin with the U.N. flag.

The State Department is not sure what Khrushchev means by this suggestion but believes his aim still is to put an end to the Western occupation rights in Berlin and make the city more vulnerable to Communist pressures.

If the suggestion is converted into a proposal it seems certain therefore to be rejected and there is no prospect that Khrushchev would be prepared to accept any Western proposals for a Berlin accord.

The U.S. attitude toward the talks has been shaped by the fact that since January Khrushchev has been following a harder line toward the United States and the West generally, with the evidence ranging from the breakdown of nuclear test ban negotiations to the way in which Soviet troops have recently been withdrawn from Cuba.

Khrushchev promised Kennedy in mid-February that several thousand would be taken out by mid-March and estimates in official Washington of the number to be withdrawn ran as high as 9,000. The best available information from authoritative sources here is that the number withdrawn up to last weekend was around 3,000.

Scranton Says Pa. Highway Building Program Periled By Democrats' Spending

By JACK LYNCH

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton and former Gov. Lawrence's budget chief were at sharp odds today over the current financial condition of the state highway building program.

Scranton told his weekly news conference Thursday the fund is in jeopardy because the Democrats under Lawrence had overspent motor funds last year.

"Clearly, in an election year they used a great deal more for highway construction than they should have," said Scranton. "This year it (the motor fund cash balance) will be at its lowest ebb because of the way they (the Democrats) handled it last year."

DISPUTED BY BALDWIN

Scranton said the cash balance at the end of the current fiscal year June 30 will be $20.9 million. He used the word deficit in saying that this is $26 million less than last year's starting balance of $47 million.

David Baldwin, Lawrence's budget director and now assistant to state treasurer Grace M. Sloan, disputed Scranton's statements several hours later.

"It (the motor fund) is not in jeopardy at all," he said.

Baldwin explained that the method of spending tax increase went into effect in 1961, saying:

KEPT PROMISES

"For years, the highway fund was on a cash basis and at the end of every fiscal year there was a very large cash balance. This never took into account obligations that had accrued, but had not as yet been paid. Every time the General Assembly met there were complaints about the large cash balance in the motor fund. The reason there were cash balances was that the bulk of the motor fund revenues are received in the spring. In effect, we got much of our money near the end of one fiscal year and spent it in the following fiscal year.

"The Lawrence administration carried out the promises it made when the gas tax was made. That was to get available money into the road construction program right away and to provide highways as soon as possible.

"The difference is that the money is in the roads instead of in the banks."

"NOT WELL HANDLED"

Scranton said the lower cash balance "indicates the fund has not been handled very well" under the Democratic administration adding:

"It leaves us in great jeopardy about doing a full-scale highway construction program in the construction season this summer and fall."

However, he conceded that part of the reason for the lower balance was attributable to the fact that a longer construction season last year used up more money than anticipated. This resulted in more road mileage being constructed.

NO GAS TAX JUMP

He also conceded that gas tax

revenues were coming in as well as expected.

The governor gave an emphatic "No" when asked if gas taxes would be increased. He said the fund would borrow whatever money it needed, but he did not say from where.

Scranton also said the Democrats had indicated $96 million would be spent on this fiscal year for federal road construction in Pennsylvania, but that the actual outlay was $75 million.

"This means Pennsylvania will get $18 million less in reimbursements for the federal government," said the governor.

ANOTHER DIFFERENCE

Baldwin also disputed that statement saying:

"So far as I know, no federal money has not been taken up in this fiscal year. Every available cent has been made use of. What Scranton has done since Jan. 15, I don't know."

In other news conference developments: Harness racing—The governor said he did not know reports being circulated that Lawrence B. Sheppard, chairman of the State Harness Racing Commission, would resign his post.

"Mr. Sheppard has not offered to resign so far as I know," said Scranton.

OTHER TOPICS

Sales tax—"I don't think you can allocate the sales tax on the basis of where it comes from for various reasons," the governor said.

He made the statement in commenting on Philadelphia's school tax situation. One suggestion has been that the city be allowed to retain all or a major part of the sales tax funds it collects. Presently, it gets only a portion of the funds from the state under the commonwealth's school reimbursement system.

Highways union—The governor said he has "made very clear" that the government doesn't "recognize it (the state government highways union) as an official body."

GOV. SCRANTON SCORES DEMS' MONEY POLICY

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — If Pennsylvania continues to follow the past financial policies of the Democrats, the state "would soon be facing mammoth tax increases," according to Gov. William Scranton.

Speaking to the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce last night, the Republican governor accused the Democratic Lawrence administration of "living beyond its means" and of borrowing "literally from tomorrow to pay today's bills."

He warned that unless such policies were changed "very soon there would be no alternative than to embrace a state income tax to get the commonwealth out of book."

But he added: "We are pledged against an income tax and we shall keep that pledge."

Three ways of improving the state's fiscal picture were offered. They were: —"Every effort must be made to enforce stringent economy measures on the day-to-day operation of state government."

—"We must get on a pay-as-you-go basis which does not depend on borrowing tomorrow's revenue to pay today's bills."

—"Pennsylvania needs budget planning of a long-time nature. We must look ahead for several years, gauging our needs and potential revenues so that our fiscal policy makes sense in the future as well as at present."

VANDEMBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force says an advance F model Atlas has passed a 4,000-mile research test.

Designer Advises 'Do Dishes Later'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A French fashion designer says women should not "spend the evening hours doing dishes when their husbands are at home."

Mrs. Claude Riviere says "the dishes can be done the next morning."

If the dishes must be done in the evening the least a woman can do is be careful of her clothes. And if a husband won't help with the dishes, Mrs. Riviere says, he should help his wife pick her clothes.

"Husbands usually have good ideas about what looks attractive on their wives, and can help with advice."

The designer and her husband, glove manufacturer, Lionel Le Grand, were in St. Louis during a tour of the United States.

"I design clothes for the woman who wants to keep her figure. Very often she is a matron who realizes how important this is. Anyway, no women is ever old. She may change, yes, but she always has something lovely about her. There is beauty in every age," Mrs. Riviere says.

Speaking of women and the way they dress, Mrs. Riviere says: "The women I do not criticize are those who cannot help themselves. Russian women, for instance, do not have fine shops. They must choose from poor stock in which certain articles are all

2 MARYLAND MEN HELD IN MAN'S DEATH

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Two Hagerstown men were charged on Thursday in the death of a Pennsylvania man in a street fight outside a tavern. A second Pennsylvania man was assaulted in the fracas.

He was held without bail for the grand jury.

Robert Bowman, 20, was ordered held on $1,000 bail on the charge of assaulting George Washington McClure, 21, also of Fayetteville.

Police said Reasner and McClure were attacked after they left a tavern shortly before midnight Wednesday. They were accompanied by two 18-year-old girls, the police said.

Reasner was pronounced dead at the scene by the Washington County Medical Examiner.

the same size, and so on. "But in countries like the United States and France, where there is an abundance of fashionable clothes, I do not see why some women dress in a careless manner. I think it's a matter of letting yourself think you are too tired to do this or that. Young married women, especially, get into this habit, and soon they just don't care."

"In France, women are fortunate enough to have more servants and more leisure time than many American women. Yet some are too tired to change into a pretty dress when their husbands are at home. I also have heard American women say they can't wear pretty at-home clothes because they will ruin them when washing dishes."

Primitive Acoma Indians Await Peace Corps Help

By GIL HINSHAW
Albuquerque Journal Staff Writer

ACOMA, N. M. (AP) — A scant 60 miles from Albuquerque's skyscrapers, it's possible to walk back centuries in time on the lands of the Acoma Indians.

Through their reservation run great arteries of the nation's civilization — telephone, gas and power lines, U. S. 66 and the Santa Fe Railway, and yet the nearest telephone and Post Office is four miles from Acoma, the largest village on the reservation.

Frank Torivio, governor of Acoma Indian Pueblo, backed by the tribal council, decided in late July to take action to pull his people into the 20th Century.

In a telegram sent directly to Sargent Shriver, director of President Kennedy's Peace Corps, the governor said:

"We make application in behalf of our Acoma people for Peace Corps members to be assigned for duty on our Acoma Indian Reservation."

Torivio said his people urgently need specialists in water development, road construction, education and public health.

Copies of the message were sent to the White House, members of New Mexico's congressional delegation and the Albuquerque office of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

In a letter dated August 2, Shriver answered Torivio with a sympathetic "no" and a tantalizing "if." He said, in effect, the corps was designed to carry aid to people outside the United States and, if a corps should be founded for home use, the Acomas would be considered.

Shriver admitted that corps members had worked among the Maricopa Indians in Arizona.

ECONOMY PRIMITIVE

Meanwhile, upward of 3,000 Acomas will remain a people torn between degrees of progress in various centuries. They voice the will and determination to live in this century and a few have snared fragments of its tinsel, TV sets and refrigerators. But the majority are tied to a primitive economy, to an indefinite place in time.

Acoma, the "Sky City," was built centuries ago atop a 350-foot-high stone mesa. Conquistadores from Spain brought them Catholicism and Spanish names. The church and later the U. S. government brought them grammar schools.

As civilization has surrounded them, most Acomas have moved down from their mesa fortress to establish villages just off U. S. 66, but the tribe still lingers on the fringe of modern American life.

SUCCESSION OF PLANS

Since the 1930s, a succession of pueblo councils and governors has studied Acoma's needs and drawn up plans for the people to become self-sufficient. But empty pocketbooks have barred the way.

Appeals to the federal Bureau of Indian Affairs for major improvements have received "no-funds" answers, says Gov. Torivio.

In 1958, the pueblo council prepared a long-range plan asking for sewage systems for its two major villages, additional wells and irrigation water, improved roads for the entire reservation, an ambulance to carry patients to a hospital in Albuquerque, a telephone for the pueblo dispensary and a larger consolidated grammar school to replace the two separate over-crowded ones.

Estimated cost was $5,919,148. The plan died for a lack of funds, Torivio says.

"POOREST TRIBE" IN STATE

The governor calls the Acomas the poorest tribe in New Mexico. Their chief source of income is the hallowed "Sky City."

At $1 a head, tourists pay about $8,000 a year to visit the city. Torivio says it would draw thousands more if it could be reached by decent roads. To reach the "Sky City" from U. S. 66, the traveler must pass over 14 miles of primitive road. The sparsely graveled stretch is rutted by gullies, cluttered by boulders and choked by dangerous curves.

Torivio says his home is besieged by outraged visitors whose cars have been damaged.

Water, Housing Add To Paris Problems

PARIS (AP) — Subterranean streets and parking garages are the only solution to Paris' pressing traffic problem, says Pierre Taittinger, chairman of the Paris municipal council.

Other important problems of Paris are lodging and water supply, said the municipal council chief. Only 50,000 lodging units are being constructed each year, he said, but 75,000 additional units are needed annually.

Water problems are becoming serious and he advocates a project to take water from the Loire River region.

Health

Adults who lose their sight learn to keep going usefully. Some with astounding success. The suddenly blinded adult experiences a psychic shock. A numbness in body and mind that lasts for days or weeks. Depression then besets him. Finally he re-directs himself and regains inner strength. That benefits from assistance, not pity but cooperation.

BUILD ICEMAN

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at Arizona State University decided to send pledges and several trucks out for snow so they could build a campus snow man.

Unfortunately, there was no snow anywhere in the state. The fraternity men changed plans quickly. They bought 1,800 pounds of crushed ice and built an iceman instead.

So limited is irrigated land, Torivio says, that the tribe is not in the marketing business. They must consume all of the produce grown, mainly corn and small vegetables.

At present, there isn't enough potable water for human use. Torivio says men of the Acomas in this area haul their water by barrels from San Fidel, four miles away. Farm families without wells use water from the irrigation ditches. Those still living in the "Sky City," where there is no well, dip into large pools of run-off water trapped in stone catch basins after the rains.

Open-pit toilets provide the only sanitation for three villages on the reservation.

The governor believes that as many as 300 families live off unemployment compensation checks or other types of welfare. The average family has an annual income of about $500, he says.

Former Pueblo Gov. Frank Ortiz says only 15 people residing on the reservation have substantial full-time employment outside the pueblo.

Did you know that in general potatoes are classified as long and round? Their color — white, red, russet — also distinguishes them.

Area Marketing Agent

Area food shoppers will find better than average meat value this weekend as retailers take advantage of supply build-ups. Seasonally large supplies of beef and pork are now coming to market, reports Tom Piper, Penn State extension marketing agent. Poultry and sea food are also in plentiful supply, giving the food merchandiser a wide selection from which to feature special sales.

Various cuts of pork and beef will appear as good buys this weekend. Prices on these popular meats are expected to drop gradually in the weeks ahead as slaughter increases and poultry supplies promise more competition. The supply of sea food is now the best in many weeks and some good buys are available in porgies, shad, fillet of flounder

NEW VERSION OF OLD SALAD ADDS FLAVOR

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Darling of sorority and guest houses, Perfection Salad arrived on the scene over a quarter of a century ago. It's been going strong ever since.

How the salad got its name is anyone's guess, though it has been treated to other titles through the years.

Originally this salad was made with unflavored gelatin and sometimes it still is. But short-order and haddock, rock fish and sea bass. Spring vegetables are beginning to appear in local markets, thanks to the improved weather conditions over recent weeks in Florida, Texas and California. Broccoli, broccoli greens, spinach and various other leafy greens, carrots, endive and escarole, celery, onions, radishes and cauliflower are improved buys in fresh vegetables. Potatoes and sweet potatoes remain on the list of good buys. Cabbage, eggplant, peppers and hothouse rhubarb have declined in price.

Best buys in fruit are limited to Florida grapefruit, avocados and bananas. Apple supplies are decreasing gradually although fruit from controlled atmosphere storages will be available for several more months. Strawberries are in heavier supply as California comes into production to supplement Florida supplies; prices remain high.

Other plentiful foods include milk and dairy products, especially cottage cheese, red tart cherries, eggs, dry beans and peanut products.

cooks eventually began using lemon-flavored gelatin as the base and this formula became popular. Now here's another change. We've used the new lemon-lime flavored gelatin in the dish.

The other ingredients in Perfection Salad have always been much the same — cabbage, celery and pimiento-stuffed olives or pimiento — although amounts have varied.

The following version is a pretty pale green with slices of pimiento-stuffed olives showing up well.

If you have a three-cup ring mold, you'll find the salad looks extremely pretty turned out of it; if not, use another shape or individual molds. Serve this jellied concoction on salad greens with a main course of meat or fish; it's fine, too, instead of cole slaw with baked beans. You can, of course, offer mayonnaise with it.

A 1933 recipe for Perfection Salad ends with this note: "A man's salad." Why it was considered particularly appealing to masculine tastes is beyond us!

New Perfection Salad

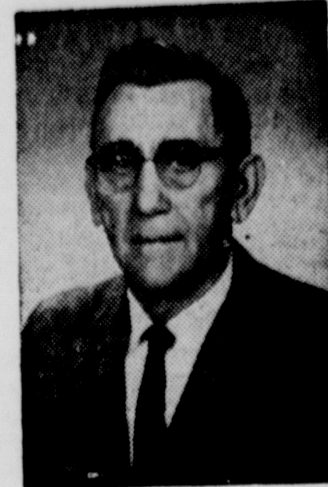

1 package (3 ounces) lemon-lime flavored gelatin.
1/4 teaspoon salt.
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup fine knife-shredded green cabbage (lightly packed)
1/2 cup finely diced celery
12 pimiento-stuffed green olives (thinly sliced)
Salad greens
Mayonnaise if desired.

Stir together the gelatin, salt and boiling water until gelatin dissolves. Stir in lemon juice and cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in cabbage, celery and olives; turn into a three-cup ring or other mold, or into six individual molds. Chill until set. Unmold and garnish with salad greens; pass mayonnaise if used. Makes six servings.

If your baking powder biscuits never have brown enough tops to suit your family, dip the cut out biscuits in melted butter or margarine before putting them in the oven. If the biscuits are to accompany the main course of a meal, they can have a sprinkling of paprika.

GIRLS' SCHOOLS TRY TO CHANGE 'SNOB IMAGE'

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — While the rest of the nation is busily clamoring for more status, seven well known symbols of exclusivity — Vassar, Barnard, Smith, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe and Wellesley — have united to divest themselves of some of their.

The traditional eastern girls schools are sending a pretty vicious alumna, Athalia Barker, Smith '59, across the nation to debunk such myths as:

"You have to be registered shortly after birth to get into Vassar."

"You need to have been born with a silver spoon in your mouth to make it into Wellesley."

"You have to be an egghead to go to Radcliffe."

"You need a convertible and a fancy wardrobe to keep up with the Van Jones girls at Bryn Mawr."

"You never learn how the other half (meaning the boys) lives when you go to a girls' school like Mount Holyoke."

And so on.

Such a disarming saleswoman is the petite, nice but without airs Miss Barker that within minutes she has you convinced that nasty old money is the last thing anybody in the seven heavenly schools would dare mention.

The schools are still exclusive in that each wants a high quality student. But they want them from all parts of the nation, of every background and with and without money, for they believe this is the most stimulating climate for intellectual growth.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

Thus, because people who did have money went to those schools before and loved the experience, there are a wealth of endowments. These provide scholarships, even transportation, on a year-to-year basis. Each year the scholarships are reevaluated and increased or decreased, depending on the family's changed circumstances.

One of every four students are on scholarships, points out Athalia.

"The most pleasant surprise to me of these girls is the clothes situation. The campuses are small and in rather a countrylike atmosphere. And you don't have any need for elaborate dress, nothing like on a co-ed campus."

The dating situation is always another pleasant surprise, smiles Athalia. "There are always boys' colleges nearby for weekend dating. Usually the girls find it is kind of relaxing not to have to be their most glamorous selves the rest of the time."

YOU, TOO

Cooperation instead of rivalry exists among the seven eastern girls' colleges, claim their representative, because none wants to grow any bigger, just better.

Compared to state universities with enrollments of 15,000 or so, the schools are small. Bryn Mawr is the tiniest with 700, but the average enrollment is around 1,500, with 15 to 20 students per class.

News Briefs

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China reported Thursday that in the past five months 44 of the world's 81 Communist parties have attacked Chinese communism with epithets ranging from "warlike" to "Trotskyite."

It was the first time an exact figure has been given of the number of Communist antagonists publicly ranged against Peking in the great debate over how to bury Western capitalism.

The official Peking People's

Daily recalled Peking's agreement with Moscow two weeks ago to halt the public name-calling which has embittered the great debate in the Communist camp. It noted, however, that the Chinese party reserved its right to make public answer to every argument which openly singled out the Chinese regime by name.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Fire swept through a Saigon slum area, destroying 3,400 thatched roof shanties and leaving 25,000 persons homeless before it was finally brought under control early Thursday.

Hundreds of the slum dwellers plunged into the Saigon River to escape the blaze. More than 100 were injured, police said.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force C123s dropped two battalions of Vietnamese paratroopers over the Plain of Reeds Thursday in a raid on guerrilla emplacements.

Another paratroop battalion waited at Saigon Airport to reinforce the operation if resistance was encountered.

The target area, in Kin Tuong Province about 60 miles southwest of Saigon, was just south of the scene of a similar paratroop operation launched late last week. Results of that operation have not been announced.

BERLIN (AP)—East German border guards are adding concrete slabs to the steel barriers and barbed wire fences along 1.5 miles between the Western and Communist checkpoints at the West Berlin end of the autobahn from West Germany.

A bus carrying eight refugees crashed through steel barriers there last Christmas and made it safely to West Berlin.

PARIS (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, arrived in Paris Thursday at the start of a European tour.

There the changing roles of the American woman is the chief concern of the faculties. While they are all interested in specific careers, the schools' primary concerns are in developing character.

"They want to give them the tools for dealing with life," says Athalia who seems remarkably capable of the job. "The emphasis is on teaching how to think."

The schools want to give those tools to all kinds of young women, not just a privileged few. Indeed, you can even get into the highly reputed seven eastern schools if you have money as long as you have scholarship, and character, too.
